Also, Ex. 6 PP / Ex. 7(C) was in her chair at her cubicle when the applicator asked her to slide back while they sprayed the floor and cubicle walls around the bottom of her desk. She was in a dress and barefooted and slid right back into the desk area. She was told by her manager (Northrop Grumman) that the herbicides were green and not harmful, so she did not worry. Also, I have included the email from my Manager (State of Wyoming LTC) office that said they never sprayed in our suite 259B and that it was again and herbicide and was green (safe). We also have an email that Northrop Grumman managers email the State that they should get something in writing from OSHA that says the sprays were "safe" to calm down the employees.

Thanks,

Thanks so much. I had another inspector reviewing stuff with me today. There are several applications…after each application, did employees return to their desks before the pesticide had dried?

Hey Sherrie,
There is many more pages to the Agriculture inspection that we sent you today. We also included letters that were sent to Prest-X and reported statements from the Presto-X employee as well as Mr.

Higgins (the manager) of Presto-X. We mailed it second day mail, so you should have it by the time you get back.

Thank you again,
