RE: Reporting Environmentally Related Health Risk.

DEAR DIRECTOR,

Inmates housed at Easterling Correctional Facility, in Barber County, ALABAMA are subject to:

1. Compost pollution;
2. Human waste pollution in segregation for reasons of toilets in cells flush 1 or 2 times per hour; sewage backed up;
3. Water inmates bath in, drink use to heat or prepare food with, "if thrown on the grass it kills it and turns it brown."

The municipal entity responsible for the water or otherwise wastewater treatment has no control, care or concern for inmates lives and or health.

DECLARED TO UNDER PENALTY OF PERJURY BY MY SIGNATURE AND 18 U.S.C. §1746 [redacted]
