Richard: We had a discussion with HQ staff last week (myself, Dan Duncan, Tristen, and Scott Downey, Mary Queitzsch, counsel). It took some discussion. On the other end we had Betsy Valente (Ocean dumping program), Laura Johnson (co-author of reefing guidance), and Laura Casey (PCB program). I believe they bought off at the end with our continuing to move ahead with review under the vessel disposal general permit while the PCB risk analysis continues.

I am adapting my notes into a list, but the photos are necessary to finish that up. That's item 1. Item 2, as we discussed during our visit, I received a cost analysis from Shaun Edwards last week. I need to go over the numbers with him. The costs for the different options (recycle Gulf of Mexico and Vancouver BC, ocean disposal) are not that different. Ocean disposal can only be considered if other options are not practicable, so we'll need to get some refinement of these numbers and determine if the recycle options are viable. Item 3 concerns the data they sent us. (It is in my cube now). They need to write a data summary report for us. We need to talk format with USCG.
