These are the slides I used when I briefed Bicky back when she started.

Julia said something similar about Vicki having too much in her head right now to absorb the primer Ex. 5 - Deliberative/Attorney-Client But if she wants to talk, I'm here Thurs and Fri. And over the weekend for that matter.

I think the primer is a good conversation but she has a lot in her head. I was thinking giving her your primer slides as she is starting from the beginning. If you have that handy that would be great. Maybe we start with that and then a conversation. Thoughts?

Hi Helena,

Ex. 5 - Deliberative/Attorney-Client

Do you think that would help? Did she already get that? Is there something else I can do?

Just trying to be helpful b/c I know you've got a million balls in the air.
