If you are sending it around for internal review and comment, please do not send to me until those comments are gathered and resolved. Can you estimate when that will be?

I'll be sending a new version around today or tomorrow to all– as I was revising already it didn't make sense to send you the old version on Monday.

Hi Jonathan,

Will you please let me know when you will be able to send a readable version of the IP with the internal comments resolved? I let you know of the problems I had reading it on July 24 and asked again this past Monday but haven't heard back.

Thanks,

Hi Jonathan,

I'll be happy to review the questions after you get the internal comments and resolve them. In the meantime, I still haven't seen a readable version of the IP with those internal comments resolved. Would you please send that to me?

Thanks,
