OK. Thanks. I will wait until next week. Just as an FYI, I am on Furlough Friday and will be traveling Monday-Wednesday next week. I will have email access while I travel, but will be accessing it on a limited basis.

Hi Danelle – I'm in between meetings, and just got your voice message.

Yes, you can take draft marks off of the newsletter and do final touch ups to it and get it ready for printing. Just to be safe, lets wait another few days and make sure no additional comments come out of the Protrac process. I've made a note on my calendar to get in touch with you next Monday to give you the green light on that.

As for the slides, I haven't shared them with Liz et. al. As long as the technical content is OK, then I don't think we need to share with communications. If there is a notes section for the presentation, you might want to add the specific wording about peer review that we put into the factsheet.

Thanks.
