Subject: Heads up -- Rosemarie call

Hello Danelle:
Rosemarie just called and we spoke for a few. She said something about the graphics that were removed from her presentation and asked what comments and suggested changes I made here recently. I told her I haven't made any suggested changes for 3-4 weeks now and that all the current changes are not of my making. She asked if I liked her graphics in her old slides and I told her I like ANY graphics and charts (and stuff) if they tell a visual story, instead of a page full of type and a talking head. She was glad to hear that. So, she may be coming at you with that...
