Dennis,
I have just looked at the PRIDCO access letter in English. It includes “Annex A” that was not included with the Spanish version of the letter. I note that under Indemnification, it has various “hold harmless” statements for the tenant. I will be forwarding this letter to CDM Smith’s risk specialist because of this clause. I know from past experience these “hold harmless” type statements can be cause for concern. Hopefully we can coordinate with any concerns over the language early next week.
