Bernard Schorle,

On the 18TH of July, we briefly met, expressing our concerns of Eagle Pit.

Is breathing in toxic gases normal and safe for our community? If they are, why don't they release them during the day while most people our at work. Could it be, they don't want to breath them in themselves.

The drinking the water issue: They ran water to all the homes they own but forgot about us little people. That's right, you said their's was contamated and are was not. But we all live within a quarter mile of the Pit.

What about the 2 neighbors that die within a year of each other from cancer. The person had metal detected in their system. But once we recieve the medical reports, we will know the truth, won't we.

I guess my main concern is: Is it safe for my 8 children, animals, spouse + me?

Who will buy are homes when were ready to sell, with all these issues and not one explainable reason for it? Why are our taxes higher every year?
