Subject:	Air Program"s Follow Up to Yesterday"s Exide Briefing
Date:	Friday, February 01, 2013 9:25:11 AM

All,

The Air Program has further discussed the question of whether we need to comment again on Exide's monitoring plan during the current comment period being publically offered by Exide. Since our previous comments and recommendations to Exide's monitoring plan are a matter of public record and since TCEQ is planning to post them on their website in the near future, we don't see a need to comment on the plan again.

We will continue to review the ambient air monitoring data from the existing regulatory monitors for any exceedances through February to gauge if there will be a potential to violate the (3-month quarterly average) Pb NAAQS.

Please let us know if you have any questions or concerns over this approach.

Maria
