Ericka-

I don't know if Lilian is going to want to try to pre-meet before Monday's meeting. She seems to want to do that when wearing her acting AD hat. I leave organizing that to you all.

FYI (or as people around here like to say -- for your situational awareness), I am out Friday.

DECLARATION OF Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy

1. My name is Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy am of legal age and competent to give this declaration. All of the information herein is based on my personal knowledge unless otherwise indicated.

Background

2. I am over 50 years old. I live in the Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy North Carolina area. I am African-American.

3. I am a 1991 graduate of John Jay College of Criminal Justice in New York City. After graduating, I served as a Peace Officer at the City College of New York, and I ultimately achieved the rank of Lieutenant before retiring from law enforcement. I also worked as a claims investigator for Blue Cross Blue Shield, I operated a restaurant in Harlem, and I managed housing developments for J&K entrepreneurs in New York City before I moved to North Carolina in 2004.

4. I am a full-time Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy which is located at Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy

Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy

Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy

Experience as Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy Near Hog Facilities

5. There are five hog facilities within Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy as well as several large chicken farms.

6. I first learned about CAFOs (Concentrated Animal Feeding Operations) in October 2004, when I came down to Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy just two weeks before I became Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy As I was touring the community and introducing myself, I remember asking, "My God, what is that smell?" I was told, "Oh, it's those pigs." I recall being amazed that people could live with such an awful smell.

7. The smell from the hog CAFOs changes depending on the wind and weather. Sometimes I cannot smell it, but in hot, humid, moist weather the stench is inescapable.

8. I personally pass by hog CAFOs several times a week on the way to church for services and Pastor study sessions. Sometimes smell from the CAFOs gets in my car and stays there.

9. I regularly experience symptoms such as coughing and draining of my eyes. My doctor has told me that allergies may be to blame, and I wonder if pollution from CAFOs contributes to my symptoms. Sometimes the smell is so strong it makes me feel like I am going to regurgitate.

10. Being near so many hog CAFOs seriously interferes with Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy One of the most important events of the yea Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy luring which we use outdoor grills. The smell from the CAFOs often forces us to move the fry inside, but doing this leads to Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy melling like fish.

11. In general, the stench from the CAFOs prevents Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy rom enjoying the outdoors and keeps Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy onfined inside. We have had to cut back on activities such as picnics, car washes, and carnivals with slides and animals for the children.

12. As a pastor, I hear about the ways in which hog CAFOs affect the lives of people in Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy The smell often interferes with their daily lives and enjoyment of their property. Some feel under pressure not to speak out. One member Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy is asthmatic and is frequently hospitalized for his condition. Although the cause is not known, I wonder if pollution from CAFOs triggers his symptoms.

13. In 2006, there was a period when the smell from CAFOs was so bad—as if something had died in the church. On Wednesday, August 6, 2006, I tried contacting the Pender County Health Department to report it. My phone calls were not returned. I have not contacted other state or county authorities regarding CAFOs since then because I was under the impression that they could not or would not do anything about the problem.

14. I wonder why CAFOs are all located in areas where African-Americans, Mexican-Americans, and lower-income families live, and why there are no CAFOs in more wealthy, Caucasian areas. I think the location of CAFOS and the way they affect nearby communities such as my congregation is a civil rights issue.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing statements are true and correct to the best of my knowledge, information, and belief.

Executed in Pender County, North Carolina on August, 29th, 2014

DECLARATION OF Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy

1. My name is Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy I am of legal age and competent to give this declaration. All of the information herein is based on my own personal knowledge unless otherwise stated.

Background

2. I am African-American. I live at Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy North Carolina. I am eighty-~~three~~ years old. This property is owned by my family.

3. I live near several hog houses. There is a hog house a mile from my house and another on the other side of my house.

4. I've been living near hog houses since they were built near my home nearly 20 years ago.

Experience Living Near the Hog Facilities

5. I am concerned about the hog facilities because it seems like I can smell the odor almost everywhere I go.

6. The hog facilities make it more difficult for me to breath. I believe that the hog facilities cause me to sneeze and my nose to stop up. I have a brother who lives next door to me who can hardly breathe. He is now Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy He has asthma. He's had this issue for about twenty years, so about the same time that the hog facilities have been nearby.

ED_001503_00011756-00001

7. The hog facilities have a very bad smell. They attract flies and the flies cover up my car port. I can't cook outside because of the smell and because of the flies. The odor is worse than anything anyone would ever want to inhale.

8. I have had these concerns about the odor, the flies and my families' well-being ever since the hog facilities were built—that's been about twenty years.

9. The hog facilities affect the whole community because of the odor. People in the community have the same problem as I have; they can't have cookouts or spend much time outdoors without flies and odor.

Activism around the Hog Facilities

10. If I could change the practices at these hog facilities, I would change the way the hog farmers spread the waste out in the fields. Everyone can smell it if they're close by. I think the hog farmers should do it a different way.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing statements are true and correct to the best of my knowledge, information, and belief.

1. My name is Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy I am of legal age and competent to give this declaration. All of the information in this declaration is based on my own personal knowledge unless otherwise indicated.

Background

2. I live at Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy North Carolina. (See Attached Map). I own my home and I have lived there for six years. Before I moved Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy which is where I'm from originally, I lived in Brooklyn, New York.

3. I am African-American. I am seventy-four years old. I retired from driving trucks in 2005, and spend a lot of my time at home.

4. The nearest hog farm from my home is Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy right across the field.

5. I talk with neighbors about that hog farm and how it smells—and what we could do about it. I attend the Rural Empowerment Association for Community Help (REACH) meetings to learn about what's happening and to find out if there is anything that we can do about it.

6. I enjoy hunting. Every year I hunt from October to New Year's. I have a hunting dog. When I go hunting, I am about 50 feet from the hog farm that is closest to where I live. It smells even worse when I am so close to it.

ED_001503_00011757-00001

7. I have well water but I don't drink it–it's polluted. If it rains a lot, I can smell the hog waste in my well water, so I don't drink it. In 2009, I had my well water tested and I was told that it was not safe to drink. At that point, I decided to buy water. I spend about $10 a week on bottled water. I spend $5 dollars on a case and I buy two cases every week.

8. Because of the smell from the hog farms, I rarely go outside. The rain brings the smell around. I used to smell it every day depending on how the wind was blowing.

9. I can't keep the windows open in my home because of the smell from the hog farms. I can also smell the hog farms at the Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy There's a hog farm about a mile away from there. Between the chicken farms and the hog farms, it smells really bad.

10. I wish they would change how they spray the waste and how they maintain the open lagoons. I wish they'd close the hog farms.

11. African-Americans are more affected by the hog farms because the hog facilities are located in the Black people's communities.

12. I never expected to face the problems from the hog farms when I moved back from Brooklyn to North Carolina. When I moved away there weren't big hog farms like this. Now that I've come back home, the area is surrounded by them.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing statements are true and correct to the best of my knowledge, information, and belief.

Background

2. I am African-American. I live at Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy North Carolina. (See Attached Map). I am eighty-five years old and I am a retired CNA (Certified Nursing Assistant).

3. I own my property. It is located near a hog facility. The closest hog farm is about half a mile away. There is also a poultry facility about half a mile away as well. I have lived near the hog facility ever since it was built here, about ten to fifteen years ago, if not longer.

Experience Living Near the Hog Facilities

6. When the facility sprays, the odor is really bad for three days. The smell of the hog facility makes me sick. The smell attracts flies also, which are really bad.

7. When the facility is spraying, or for the days following; I can't raise the windows. We can't cook outdoors or do anything in the yard when the smell is present. For example, I can't hang my clothes outside to dry because the smell will get in the clothes. I spend a lot of time in my garden, and I don't like to be out there when the smell comes. I also don't like being on the porch when the smell comes; it's difficult to sit on the porch when I have to fight flies all the time.

8. The odor has gotten worse over time. It is now as bad as it's ever been.

9. We are on municipal water and have had our water tested. The tests say it is fine, but sometimes when you turn the water on, it turns brown. This did not happen before hog facility started operating.

10. I think I would have a problem selling my property if I wanted to, because of the hog houses.

Health Issues from Living Next to the Hog Facilities

ED_001503_00011758-00003

11. My Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy and I have health conditions that I believe might be connected to the hog facility. I have Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy and my ear stops up. Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy has had Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy s. We did not have these health conditions before the hog facility was built.

Activism around Hog Farming

12. I joined the Rural Empowerment Association for Community Help (REACH) organization. They try to work to get the hog houses fixed so we won't smell that odor. I have been involved with the REACH for seven years. REACH named me Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy because of my service to my community.

13. If I could change the practices at the hog facilities, I would want them to get rid of the odor, clean up the lagoons, and stop spraying.

14. I believe that the hog facility issue is a civil rights issue because they're built closer to the Black neighborhoods in this county.

Experience Living Near Several Hog Facilities

7. There are several facilities that are very close to my home. One is less than a mile away and there are others within two miles. Maps showing my house, the church I attend, and the nearest hog facility are attached as Exhibits 1-2.

8. Beyond my house, in my community, there are even more hog facilities. There used to be nine hog facilities on Five Mile Road, which is also called Little Kelly Road, between Route 210 and Highsmith Road. I'm told now that there are only six hog facilities. It's still a lot of hog facilities on a small stretch of land. A map showing the six hog facilities in my immediate community is attached as Exhibit 3. A map showing the hog facilities within a 3 mile radius is attached as Exhibit 4.

9. The biggest problem with living near the hog facilities is the smell. I like to be outside. We have a pool, but the stench is so bad that it's not pleasant to be outside and we can't enjoy our pool. If you sit on the front porch, and the wind goes in the certain direction, the stench can hit you full force. We have to be careful to plan our time outside to try to avoid the smell.

10. Because of the smell, there's no such thing as putting the windows down. There's no way to know when the smell will come and hit the house full force.

11. It always smells, but when the hog facilities spray the liquid on the field, there's an extra stench.

12. The smell is also a problem for us at church. We don't like to have the windows open at church for fear of the smell from the hog facilities. We don't like to leave the doors of the church open for the same reason. Because of the smell, we hold events inside. We'd like to have events outside, like a fish fry, but the smell would prevent us from enjoying being outside.

13. My church and the surrounding hog facilities are shown in Exhibit 1, referenced above.

14. I have experienced the smell from these large industrial hog facilities since they came to North Carolina in large numbers. I have always lived in this community and always have been exposed to their pollutants and smell. When I was growing up, I lived two doors down from my current home. The industrial hog facilities are different than the small hog farms of the past. My stepfather had a small farm with hogs, and it didn't smell anywhere near what these big facilities smell like.

ED_001503_00011759-00003

15. In addition to the smell, I am also concerned about run-off, especially when the facilities spray the waste on the field. I am concerned that run-off will affect the water. I am on county water now, but before I had well water. I had my water tested about ten years ago. The tests didn't appear to show any impacts from the hog waste, but I was still concerned that runoff could affect water quality. When the county came through with the water, we paid $120 to connect to give us piece of mind. County water has been a Godsend. I feel much more comfortable drinking the water. I am not as worried about pollution from the hog facilities.

16. I have allergies, but I can't be sure whether they have been affected from the hog facilities.

17. My community has suffered a lot of health problems. For a while, it seemed like all we had in this neighborhood was cancer. My Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy, and several others out of the neighborhood also passed away from cancer. People who live in this neighborhood have been suspicious that there were so many cancer patients in this area. We wonder if the incidence of cancer could be related to our water. We never had the water throughout our whole area tested, but it has been a topic of conversation among some people in the neighborhood. It seems like fewer people are dying of cancer these days, but I wonder if we might see bouts of cancer again.

18. I think there has to be some other way for the hog facilities to get rid of their waste, and to get rid of the smell.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing statements are true and correct to the best of my knowledge, information, and belief.

1. My name is Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy I am of legal age and competent to give this declaration. All of the information herein is based on my own personal knowledge unless otherwise indicated.

Background

2. I live at Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy, North Carolina. (See Attached Map). I am ~~fifty-one~~ years old. I live there with my mother, Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy She's eighty-five years old and will be eighty-six on Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy I have lived at this address, on and off, for ~~forty-one~~ 43 years out of my fifty-one years.

3. The nearest hog farm from here is about half a mile away.

4. I also lived at Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy There were hog farms near there as well. I lived at that address for ~~ten years~~ 13. The closest hog farm to that location was a half-mile away.

5. I am a CNA (Certified Nursing Assistant). I work part-time, about 20 hours a week. I travel from one place to another for my work and I encounter hog farms when I travel.

Experience Living Next to the Hog Farm

6. I have health conditions related to hog farms. When the fields are being sprayed, my allergies and sinuses act up. I get sick to my stomach and throw up. When the smell starts, I have to turn on the air conditioning, keep the windows up, and I can't hang my clothes outside. It's an awful smell. The smell stays around for four to five days when it's raining. I try not to go out when it's like this, but I have to because I have to go to work.

7. I have talked to my family and friends about how I feel about the spraying. I tell my mother that I can't stand this smell. I have to shut myself into the house because every time I come outside, it makes me want to throw up.

8. I have concerns about air quality. I think that the air we breathe, which is polluted from the hog farms, could cause health problems and would not know until later that it caused our health problems. I am concerned for the children in my family. I worry about my grandsons. One is eight years old and the other is eighteen. I feel like their health is at risk because they are exposed to hog farms. One lives in town Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy and the other lives in Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy They come to visit occasionally.

9. We have concerns about the property value. I think it would be difficult for my mother to sell the house because of the problems from the hog farms and the chicken farms.

10. The chicken houses are really bad. There is one that is very close to the house—we can see it from our window. The chicken houses smell bad because of the chicken litter piled up. They gather it up in the truck and they go out and spray it up and down in the fields. You know when they're spraying it over the fields because everything is going in your nose if you have your window down. They spray it when it's still dry so it ends up blowing in your house, in your car, on your clothes, and in your nose. I stopped drying my clothes outside and now I have to spend money to dry my clothes. I have to spend money to spray my house because of the odor. I have to spend more money keeping the air conditioner on so I don't have to smell that bad smell.

11. I only dry my clothes out on the line in the winter because the smell isn't as bad from the hogs and the chickens. It's still there in the winter time, but it's not as bad because they're not producing as much. In the spring, the summer, and the fall, it just stinks—the smell from the hog and chicken farms is sickening. In the summertime, there's more heat and the wind blows and it carries the smell.

12. In the summer, the smell from the hog farms affects how much time we spend outside. We'd like to have cookouts or play outside with my grandkids, but when they start spraying my grandson will say, "It stinks out there. I'm ready to go home." We have to find somewhere to take him so he can play or we have to go inside. We would have to go somewhere like Jacksonville or we'd have to spend money to do activities inside to keep him from breathing that bad air.

13. The smell is much worse than it used to be because it seems like they're spraying hog waste and spreading more chicken waste than they used to.

14. I've lived here most of my life and it didn't use to be this bad. The Black farmers used to have their hog pins and their hog pastures far away in the woods. Now these new farmers have them right next to the road where everyone can see them—and smell them. I started to notice the hog farming being closer to where we lived about ten years ago. I started noticing the spraying when I started smelling it. This was when my husband and I moved back from Jacksonville, ten years ago.

15. The only time I can go outside is when I go within the city limits. Then I can go outside and go to a cookout with family or friends. We can't have cookouts around here because we have to wait three or four days after they spray. We don't know when they're going to spray, but we do know that we have to wait that long before we can do anything because the smell is unbearable. We can't have cookouts when the smell is bad because of the flies. The flies are really bad for those three days after they spray. They come through the windows and we have to make sure we shut the door and there aren't any holes in the screen door because the flies will come in. It's a nuisance to deal with the smell, the flies, and the throwing up, because the smell is so sickening. We can't sit out on our porch and laugh and talk with family.

ED_001503_00011760-00004

Advocacy Against Industrial Hog Farms

16. I have never tried to advocate with others to make this situation better. I'm going to start going to Rural Empowerment Association for Community Help (REACH) meetings in Warsaw. They advocate to make life better for people that live around hog farms.

17. I'm worried about my grandchildren because their immunity may not be as strong as ours is. They could get sicker than me from the hog farms.

18. I wish that they could control the smell. I would like to go back to my normal life and live comfortably.

19. I believe that industrial hog farming is a civil rights issue. The farms are located in Black neighborhoods and poor areas.

DECLARATION OF Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy

1. My name is Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy I am of legal age and competent to give this declaration. All of the information herein is based on my own personal knowledge and experience unless otherwise indicated.

Background

2. I am a 53-year-old, African-American man. Since 2002, I have lived at Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy North Carolina with Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy Before that, I lived in the Washington D.C. area. As a teenager, I split my time living between Washington, D.C. and Duplin County.

Experience Living Next to Hog Facilities

3. My home is surrounded by hog facilities and sprayfields. The map attached as Exhibit 1 shows that there is a hog facility within a mile of my home. The map attached as Exhibit 2 shows that there are about two dozen hog facilities within a three-mile radius of my home.

4. I have been living near hog facilities and sprayfields since 2002. I don't currently work so I am at home most days and I experience the effects of the hog facilities frequently.

5. There often is a bad smell near my home from the hog facilities, sprayfields, and trucks that carry the dead animals from the hog facilities. The smell is strongest during the summer when it is hot outside or after a truck carrying dead hogs passes by. I see dead hog trucks every day. A foul smelling liquid frequently spills out of these trucks onto the road. Sometimes I see guts from dead hogs on the road.

ED_001503_00011761-00001

6. Because of the smell, my wife, daughter, and I do not spend much time outside. We don't hang our clothes outside to dry because we are concerned the smell will get into the clothes and stay in them. We always keep the windows in the house closed and run the air conditioning as needed throughout the year so the smell doesn't get in our house. If we open the windows, the stink from the hog facilities can get inside and into our clothes.

7. I constantly see flies around my home. I think they are attracted to the stink from the hog facilities. All year, but even more in the summer, when it's hot and the smell from the hog waste is strongest, we have to use fly swatters and Raid insect spray against the bugs. I have cousins who live across from a hog facility and the flies there are so thick in the summer when the odor is the worst. They can't get rid of them.

8. I believe the hog facilities spray their waste in the morning, but I never can tell what time in the morning they are going to do it. The facilities don't notify us when they are going to spray. Sometimes I see a brown-colored fog and I think it is from the sprayfields shooting hog waste into the air.

9. My Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy She has had it since she was born in 2006. She takes medication for Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy Her doctor hasn't told me what he thinks caused her Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy but being around the sprayfields aggravates her symptoms. We don't let our daughter play outside at home even though she'd like to. She plays on the softball team at school and likes being outside. Her Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy isn't always a problem, but we ask her to stay inside at home to try to prevent he Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy from being triggered from the odor and hog waste in the air from the hog facilities and the sprayfields.

10. Before I moved back down here in 2002, I had some eye allergies, but now I have worse eye allergies and nasal allergies. I have to take a nasal spray and prescription medication to help with my allergies. I believe my new allergies developed because of the waste sprayed into the air. My wife also has allergies. I don't know how long she has had these allergies. She just takes over-the-counter medicine to help with them. The dust that is kicked up from the hog trucks also aggravates her allergies and she has to take more medicine.

11. I think the poultry facilities also contribute to the bad smell. It seems the poultry facilities are a half-mile to one mile away from my house. I think they dump their waste less frequently than the hog facilities do, but when they do it smells terrible, too. With the smell from the poultry facilities and the hog facilities, it's very hard to find a time when my family can be outside.

12. We used to use a water pump to get my water, but now my home is hooked up to county water, which costs $23-$33 each month. The County did not explain why it made residents switch to their system, but I think it is because of hog waste seeping from unlined lagoons into the groundwater, getting into people's wells. I was concerned that the waste from the hog facilities could get into our water and make my family and people in my community sick.

13. The County puts a lot of chlorine in the water. I can smell and taste the chlorine in the water. At times, the water looks milky and it tastes like rust. I do not feel good drinking the water. Sometimes, I'll boil the water to get it to look and taste right. I think the County puts so much chlorine into the water to disinfect it. I'm not sure why they need to disinfect the water, but I am concerned that it might be because the water is contaminated by the hog facilities. I believe that too much chlorine is not healthy for you.

14. A water cooler company salesperson came to my home recently. He was able to treat the water in some way to make it appear cleaner, but I decided not to purchase the company's services because I feared I would not be able to pay for it. I'd like to be able to provide clean water for my family, but it's just too expensive. I'm upset that I have to pay for County water that is not even good enough.

Experience Working for a Hog Facility

15. I used to worked as a Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy for Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy I transported dead animals. As part of that job, I had to lift hog boxes of dead hogs onto the trucks. I would go to the hog facility and go around to find the dead box. I would pull up to a box, and it would be full of dead hogs or sometimes chickens. I am not sure why chickens would sometimes be mixed in with the hogs. The boxes were made out of metal and were about the size of a full-size car. The boxes had holes in the bottom on it, so there were plenty of times where a foul-smelling liquid from the boxes would splash and drip onto me. When it rained, water and waste dripped out of the boxes. I would put chains on each side of the box and raise it up with a motor to empty the box into the truck. There was a net across the truck bed that catches the bodies of the dead hogs. The Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy trucks were worse than the ones at Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy because there was no shield on the sides of the trailer to keep any liquids from leaking onto the road.

16. Sometimes the companies I worked for hauling dead animals had me wear a uniform. They gave me a raincoat to protect against the rain. Other than rubber gloves or the raincoat, they gave me no protective equipment when I lifted the dead boxes.

17. When I transported the dead bodies of hogs, I delivered them to Valley Proteins, Inc., a rendering operation that has several North Carolina locations. Sometimes, if the dead hogs were too rotten, Valley Proteins would turn me away. If I was turned away, sometimes the dispatcher at the company I was working for directed me to dump the dead hogs into a particular open-air hole in Rose Hill, North Carolina. The hole was filled with the bodies of dead hogs, and it smelled so bad. I don't know who maintained that open-air hole.

18. The trucks I drove were always leaking with a foul-smelling liquid coming from the decaying hogs, which would fall out onto the road. I still regularly see foul-smelling liquids on the roads. I recognize it as liquids that have come out of trucks carrying dead hogs.

19. I believe there are some people in the hog industry and the government that are interested in keeping things the way they are. I also believe that the government does not inspect trucks carrying hog waste in the way they are supposed to. The police never inspected a truck I drove. If the police stopped me when I had a truck full with dead hogs, the state troopers would tell me to have a nice day and let me go, even if the truck was leaking.

20. I believe hog facilities are concentrated near communities of color, although I know other people are affected as well. I believe the people running these facilities feel that communities of color won't say or do anything to stand up to them. I think the effects from these hog facilities are making people here sick.

21. I don't believe the people running those hog facilities care about us. I think they're just worried about maintaining their way of life. I don't think they care about the people living here and who they're hurting.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the forgoing statements are true and correct to the best of my knowledge, information, and belief.

2. I am a 74-year-old African-American Army veteran. I currently reside at Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy North Carolina, less than one mile from my birthplace. I purchased my current home 45 years ago.

3. As is shown in the map attached as Exhibit 1, there are four large hog facilities less than a mile from my home. Within two miles, there are at least 10 hog facilities, as is shown in the map attached as Exhibit 2. I also have seen poultry facilities near my home.

4. Along with my late wife, I raised my four children in my current home. However, because of our concerns for the hog facilities' impact on our children's health, I have assisted my children in relocating to Maryland and Washington, D.C.

5. In 2004, I joined the Rural Empowerment Association for Community Help ("REACH") because I am frustrated with my lack of clean air and clean water. Soon after joining REACH, I became a board member. As a board member, I have supported REACH's work against the hog facilities, including REACH's work sampling local waters for contamination and screening schoolchildren for asthma.

Experience Living Near the Hog Facilities

6. My home is a Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy Even when I close all the windows and doors, I cannot keep the horrible smell from the hog facilities outside.

7. Every day, at least nine trucks carrying hogs travel back and forth to the hog facilities near my home. I also have seen other trucks going to or from the facilities. I think these other trucks might carry away dead hogs. All of the trucks carry an awful smell with them.

8. The trucks recently increased their presence during the morning hours. The stench carried by the trucks lingers, covering the clothing of schoolchildren waiting at bus stops. I know from my work with REACH and my own health challenges that the poor air also increases their risks for asthma and other respiratory diseases.

9. The roads in front of my home often are covered in a foul smelling liquid, which I think is hog waste that has been spilled from the trucks that drive by moving the hogs from one facility to another. The spilled liquid persists until the rain washes it off the road, but the horrible odor returns as soon as the ground is dry.

10. The trucks run at all hours of the day and are loud nuisances outside my home. The trucks can be heard in addition to the roaring fans at the hog facilities. The fans run at all hours of the day but more often in the summer.

11. The hog facilities near my home sometimes spray the hog waste onto fields. The smell becomes noticeably stronger once the spraying begins. No warning is ever given before the hog facilities begin to spray the waste.

12. Because the smell from the hog waste and the trucks is so strong, I no longer can hang my clothing out to dry outside my home. Even when I wash and dry them indoors, I sometimes must rewash them and must use a special detergent to remove the smell.

13. I wish I had moved a long time ago because of the inconveniences of the hog facilities and the risks to me and my family's health when they lived here with me.

ED_001503_00011762-00002

14. The smell from hog waste spray not only affects me at home, it also affects me when I visit my deceased relatives at Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy, a private family cemetery located just over a half-mile away from my home. The cemetery is accessible only by taking an unmarked country road through the woods. I visit the gravesites of my grandmother, her mother, and other relatives who are buried there nearly every week. Because the cemetery is very close to a hog farm and near the fields where the vast waste is sprayed, it often smells of hog waste. I do not visit as often as I would like, and I frequently cut my visits to the cemetery short, because I cannot stand the unbearable smell from the hog facilities. My breathing problems also get worse if I am there for too long. A map showing the Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy and the nearby hog farm is attached as Exhibit 3.

Outdoor Recreation Near the Hog Facilities

15. I am a hunter and a fisherman. I used to fish at Northeast Cape Fear River, but I had to stop eating the fish because I began seeing dead and deformed fish in the River. Some of the fish had boils and lesions on them. I was concerned that the problems in the River were caused by the hog facilities, so I stopped fishing in the area. I cannot fish in the creeks near me because I have noticed problems there, also.

16. I also enjoy walking through the woods behind my home. I cannot do so as often as I would like to because of the unbearable smell from the hog facilities on the other side of the woods.

Personal and Family Health

17. While stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia, during the Vietnam War, I was exposed to an experimental form of Agent Orange; my unit was asked to collect targets in an area where the Agent was exploded only two days earlier. As a result, and as doctors predicted, I lost my

Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy f

18. Since my exposure to Agent Orange, I have had trouble breathing. My symptoms are worse when I am near the hog facilities. When I go to the beach where there is no spraying, my breathing problems are a bit better than when I am around the facilities when they are spraying.

19. I suffer from Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy Even though I do not drink or smoke, my conditions are worsening. My doctor in Faison diagnosed me with Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy and prescribes four daily medications and three inhalers for my health problems, which cost me nearly $50 per month.

20. I began seeing my doctor in Faison after I was dropped from the supplemental insurance to my Medicare plan. That plan provided for a nurse to transport me to the Veterans Affairs clinic. Since losing the coverage, I now must find someone willing to take me to the doctor in Faison, nearly 20 minutes away. I don't like driving because I lost an eye in an accident a few years back.

21. I currently see my doctor every three months. Sometimes my conditions worsen and I need to go sooner, but it's hard to get an appointment. I have had to wait several weeks to get in to see the doctor.

22. Over the previous three years, I have sought emergency room care twice each year because I suffered sudden severe flare ups of my respiratory problems. I think my problems were related to the horrible stench and pollution from the hog facilities.

23. Now that I no longer have the supplemental insurance, I worry about the possible medical expenses I may face if I have to seek emergency care again in the future.

24. My oldest daughter also had health problems when she lived close to the hog facilities. She developed Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy around the time she turned 16. While our other children played outside, my oldest daughter often had to stay inside because of her Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy She suffered r Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy and required five to six trips to the emergency room while in high school. No medical diagnosis was given and her symptoms persisted.

25. My oldest daughter currently works in education. She has missed a lot of work because of the health problems that might be related to the hog facilities. For example, sometimes, on her way to work, she gets caught behind trucks carrying the hogs and it makes it hard for her to breathe. Her symptoms improved, however, when she temporarily moved out of the area and out of state. I believe her symptoms improved because she moved away from the air pollution from the hog facilities.

26. I am thankful for life but it is useless without access to clean air and clean water. Though it may be too late to help me, I want to have clean air and environment water for my children and others. To have clean air and water, something must be done about the hog facilities.

DECLARATION OF Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy

1. My name is Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy I am of legal age and competent to give this declaration. All the information herein is based on my own personal knowledge unless otherwise indicated.

Background

2. I am a 64 year-old African American woman. I currently live at Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy North Carolina. Attached to this declaration as Exhibits 1 and 2 are satellite maps showing my home and surrounding swine facilities within a one and three mile radius, respectively. As you can see from Exhibit 1, there are at least 5 swine facilities located within a one-mile radius of my home. Under their permits, these facilities could collectively house almost 20,000 animals and have eight lagoons. Looking within the two-mile radius of my home, the permitted facilities could collectively house over 80,000 hogs. There are at least 30 swine facilities within a three-mile radius of my home.

3. I work part-time as a home health assistant. I don't work many hours because of my disability. I have a Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy which I understand to be related to Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy which I believe was caused by pollution from the swine facilities, including the sprayed hog waste. I did not have trouble with my sinuses or with breathing before the industrial hog farms moved in near my home. I have had the Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy since about 2006. I receive Social Security disability benefits because of my condition.

4. I grew up in my house at Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy which my mother continued to live in when I moved to New Jersey in 1969. All of the surrounding land also was owned by black people at that time.

ED_001503_00011763-00001

5. I came back to North Carolina in 1979, to take care of my mother after she had a heart attack. My mother died in 1994, and soon after that I moved back into Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy and renovated it. As shown in attached Exhibit 3, my home is within fifty feet from a sprayfield connected to a hog facility. When my family and I first lived in the area, we believe that some or all of the industrial hog facilities were not yet in existence. Across from my house were tobacco fields owned by an African American family. I believe construction of the industrial hog houses closest to my home was completed in the mid-1990's.

Experience Living Near Hog Farms

6. I drove a truck for Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy from 1980 to 1983. At that time, there were no big industrial hog houses, but there was a much smaller hog house way back in the woods. I would carry the feed and have to put it in the bins.
7. The farms smelled back then too, but nothing like the smell the current industrial operations produce.
8. Today, as you can see on Exhibit 3, there are sprayfields less than 50 feet from my front door. The spray just shoots out when the mechanized, high-volume sprayer is running, at times getting waste on my lawn, car and home. Attached Exhibit 4 is a CD containing a video of the sprayers nearest my home.
9. They typically spray in the morning and again at night, but as far as I know there is no set spraying schedule. The hissing sound of the sprayer and the blinking light that is visible through my windows when they spray at night wakes me up at night.
10. The smell from the hog waste is like something has been dead for a while. Like the body's been dead and decomposed. It's a horrible odor like nothing else I've smelled before.

11. Once the odor gets on you, you have to keep washing and washing. If you walk past a hog truck, you don't have to touch it but the smell gets on your skin.

12. Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy is the contractor grower for Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy whose operations are right next door to me (at least one of his sprayfields is across the street from me). He has hogs (which I understand are owned by Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy and he also has poultry houses. I think he built about 9 or 10 poultry houses maybe a year ago. They are painted green and don't use lagoons but the poultry waste is spread around outside, too. The stench from the poultry houses and waste is not as bad as that from the hog facilities, but it still smells horrible.

13. The buzzards that congregate around my house because of the hog facilities are a problem, too. There are a lot of them on this road because of the dead box (where the facilities deposit the dead hogs) down the street, right by the cemetery. It's probably less than half a mile away. The odor from the dead boxes is even more horrible than from the sprayers and the facilities where the live hogs are kept.

14. In about 2009, I was diagnosed with Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy which is a Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy It's a chronic disease that I suffer from in addition to the Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy and I have to take steroids to treat it. My lymph nodes and my chest swell. I get short of breath. I think this condition has something to do with the pollution from the hog facilities, particularly the sprayfields, because I never suffered these symptoms before the sprayfields came. I still take the prednisone now, since 2009. And lately, I have had to go to the eye doctor to get steroids for Ex. 6, 7c - Personal Privacy

15. Before the facilities and sprayfields moved in near me, I used to have a garden and hang clothes on the line. I don't have a dryer, so now I have to either go into town to dry my clothes or try to avoid times when the sprayer might be operating. The laundromat is ten to twelve miles away.

16. I used to have cookouts, but not anymore, because of the constant threat of the likelihood that there will be a stench from the hog facilities and sprayed waste so close to my home.

17. Now I keep my windows closed virtually all the time because of the spraying. I would rather have them open because I like a breeze, but the stench and the spray is too awful to bear.

18. I stay in the house now as much as I can because of the hog facilities and spraying. I would rather be able to walk and garden outside. If I go outside when they are spraying, I run to get in my car to go to work. There are so many sprayfields on this road that I smell the hog waste odor all the way to Warsaw.

19. Because of the pollution from the hog facilities, I feel like I don't have a life. I'm engaged to be married, and one day I would like to be walking outside with my husband and say "ooh, smell this fresh air!"

DECLARATION OF STEVE WING

I, Steve Wing, do hereby declare as follows:

1. My full name is Steven Bennett Wing. I am of legal age and competent to give this declaration. All of the information herein is based on my own personal knowledge unless otherwise indicated.

2. From 1985 to present I have been a faculty member in the Department of Epidemiology at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. I am currently an Associate Professor. A copy of my Curriculum Vitae is attached as Exhibit 1.

3. Since 1996 my research has focused on the impact of swine confinement facilities, also known as confined animal feeding operations ("CAFOs") or industrial hog operations ("IHOs"), and on the well-being and quality of life of neighboring residents and workers.[1-21] I reviewed much of this research in a recent book chapter.[22]

4. Before industrialization of the hog industry, most North Carolina producers raised small numbers of hogs, commonly fewer than 25, on diversified farms where hogs were one of several commercial crops, or products.[23] Swine production in North Carolina changed dramatically during the last decades of the 20th century. Between 1982 and 2006 the number of hog operations in the state declined precipitously while the hog population increased from approximately 2 to 10 million (see Wing, 2014,[22] Figure 3.3). Industrial producers in North Carolina adopted a system of raising large numbers of hogs, often many thousands, in confinement structures that exhaust toxic gases and particles into the environment. While smaller, pasture-based hog farms were spread across the state, industrial facilities became spatially concentrated in North Carolina's eastern coastal plain.[24] This low-lying region, which has sandy soils and shallow aquifers and is vulnerable to flooding, now has the top 10 ranked counties for numbers of hogs per land area in the entire United States.[25]

5. A large hog CAFO produces as much waste as a city of 50,000 or more people, but unlike cities, has no wastewater treatment plant. Instead, animal wastes are flushed into open cesspools and then sprayed on nearby fields (see Wing, 2014,[22] Figure 3.1). Industrial-scale animal waste sprayers capable of dispersing hundreds of gallons of waste per minute create mists that can easily drift downwind into neighboring communities (see Wing, 2014,[22] Figure 3.2). Hog CAFOs emit gases and particles from confinements, open cesspools, sprayfields, and bins of rotting carcasses that are stored on site prior to disposal.

6. Airborne emissions from hog CAFOs have demonstrated impacts on the health and quality of life of neighbors.[2,22,26,27]

7. Air pollution from hog CAFOs harms human health. Particles less than 10 microns in aerodynamic diameter (PM_{10}), including endotoxins, bacteria, yeasts and molds that are recognized toxins and inflammatory mediators,[28] can be inhaled deep into the respiratory tract. Hog CAFO gases can affect both the upper and lower respiratory tract. Hydrogen sulfide, a toxic compound produced by anaerobic decomposition of hog waste, travels off-site through the air to nearby communities, and is a useful marker of complex mixtures of gases and particles emitted by hog CAFOs.[29] Ammonia, which can irritate the eyes and mucous membranes, is also released by hog CAFOs. Humans absorb gaseous ammonia in the upper respiratory tract. When transformed into fine particles in the presence of humidity, ammonia can reach deeper into the lungs.[1,30]

8. Hog CAFOs emit a large number of volatile organic compounds that contribute to the offensive odors described by neighbors. These compounds may occur as gases or may be adsorbed to fine particles. When fine particles are inhaled and settle onto the warm, moist mucous membranes of nose, they release odorant compounds that are detected by the olfactory nerves.[1,30] Airborne emissions from hog CAFO have pronounced impacts on the health and quality of life of neighbors.

9. The negative impacts of particles and gases inside swine confinements on worker health are well-documented.[1,31-38] A 2010 review notes that respiratory effects include "symptoms of acute and chronic bronchitis, nonallergic occupational asthma, mucous membrane irritation, and organic dust toxic syndrome."[28] These effects have been observed repeatedly in research in different countries with different study designs despite the healthy worker effect, a well-known phenomenon in occupational epidemiology. The healthy worker effect refers to the observation that workers tend to be healthier than the general population, which includes people too sick to work and people who are sensitive to hazards in the workplace.[39] Confinement workers are exposed to higher concentrations of particles, gases and microbes than are CAFO neighbors, however, communities near CAFOs include children, the elderly, people who are too sensitive to CAFO dusts and gases to work there, and people with chronic respiratory disease. Furthermore, nearby communities are exposed involuntarily to hog CAFO pollutants in and around their homes where they have expectations to beneficial use of their property and freedom from substances that cause physical discomfort, annoyance, stress and anxiety.

10. An extensive body of peer-reviewed scientific evidence shows that hog CAFOs contaminate the air in neighboring communities where they affect the health and quality of life of neighbors.[2,31,40-49] There are some differences in the way North Carolina hog CAFOs operate compared to CAFOs in some areas. For example, in Iowa, hog waste is usually stored in pits under the confinements, whereas in North Carolina hog waste is typically stored in open-air ponds known to the industry as "lagoons." Although studies of community impacts of hog CAFOs in other parts of the U.S.A. and Europe are relevant to the situation in North Carolina, in the following paragraphs I focus on studies conducted in North Carolina by our research group, including university faculty members, doctoral student research assistants, university research staff, members of community-based organizations, and government scientists.

11. With support from the North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services and the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences, our research group conducted a survey of health and quality of life of residents of three eastern North Carolina communities with similar demographic and economic characteristics.[21] In one community, residents lived within two miles of a hog CAFO. One of the comparison areas had two cattle operations, and the other had no industrial livestock facilities. Residents living near the hog CAFO reported higher frequencies of headache, runny nose, sore throat, coughing, diarrhea, and burning eyes compared to residents of the community with no industrial livestock production. To evaluate quality of life we asked participants how often in the past six months they were unable to open their windows or go outside even in nice weather. Hog CAFO neighbors reported an average of 18.5 days in the past six months when they couldn't open their windows, and 15.4 days when they couldn't go outside, compared to 3.2 and 2.1 days, respectively in the community with no livestock production.[21] Our research was published in Environmental Health Perspectives, the peer-reviewed scientific journal of the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences, National Institutes of Health, United States Department of Health and Human Services.

12. During the 1999-2000 school year, the North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services conducted a survey of respiratory symptoms, asthma diagnoses and asthma treatment among public middle school students across the State. Because this survey did not include an evaluation of environmental exposures that could affect children's respiratory heath, we sent a questionnaire to rural school staff to assess environmental exposures including the frequency of occurrence of livestock odors at the schools. Because respiratory irritants and allergens are present in air emissions from hog and poultry CAFOs, we hypothesized that asthma symptoms would be more prevalent among children who attended schools affected by livestock air pollution. We found that children who attended schools where staff reported noticing livestock odor inside school buildings twice or more per month had a 23% higher prevalence of wheezing symptoms compared to children who attended schools where no livestock odor was reported. Children attending schools within three miles of a hog CAFO had more asthma-related symptoms, more doctor-diagnosed asthma, and more asthma-related medical visits compared to students who attended schools further away.[6] Pediatrics, the peer-reviewed journal of the American Academy of Pediatrics, published our findings.

13. From 2003 until 2005 our research group conducted a repeated-measures study of air pollution, health and quality of life in 16 neighborhoods in eastern North Carolina. The neighborhoods, located in three different counties, were located within 1.5 miles of between one and 16 hog CAFOs. For two to three weeks, we monitored concentrations of PM_{10} and hydrogen sulfide at a central location in each neighborhood (see Wing, 2014,[22] Figure 3.10). While we monitored air pollution, adult non-smokers living around the monitors participated in a study of health and quality of life. Participants had their odor sensitivity tested and chose times each morning and evening when they agreed to sit on their porch for 10 minutes to be exposed to the ambient air. For two to three weeks, twice a day, they used a structured diary to rate the strength of hog odor from none to very strong, rate their experience of irritation of the eyes, nose and respiratory symptoms, report disruption of routine activities of daily living, measure their lung function, and measure their blood pressure (see Wing, 2014,[22] Figure 3.9). One hundred and one study participants produced over 2,900 journal entries. This study was designed to evaluate the acute effects of hog CAFO air pollution on neighbors. Rather than comparing exposed communities to unexposed communities in another location, we compared participants' symptoms, quality of life, lung function and blood pressure at times when they were exposed and times when they were unexposed. Thus, each person served as her or his own control. Unlike comparisons between exposed and unexposed communities which can be affected by differences between groups in medical history, diet, weight, occupational exposure, housing and other attributes, these other potential influences on health are essentially the same for a person for the two to three weeks of the study when they experienced time periods of higher vs. lower hog CAFO pollution. This design allowed us to determine whether exposures preceded the outcomes of interest and ensured that health differences between exposed and unexposed time periods were not due to typical so-called "confounding factors." The disadvantage of this design is that people were not in the study long enough to be able to examine the chronic effects of long-term exposures.[18]

14. Study participants reported hog odor outside their homes on more than half of days in the study and inside their homes on 12.5% of days.[29] Reported hog odor and measured hydrogen sulfide concentrations were highest in the mornings and evenings – times when people commonly like to engage in outdoor activities at home (see Wing, 2014,[22] Figure 3.11).[29] Participant reports of hog odor were strongly related to ambient concentrations of hydrogen sulfide, and to levels of fine particles at higher wind speeds (particles travel further in the wind than when the air is still).[29] The correspondence between participants' hog odor ratings and pollutant concentrations measured by air monitors provides objective validation of participants' odor ratings. Indeed, the relationship between odor and hydrogen sulfide in our study corresponds closely to results of a chamber experiment in which participants were exposed to CAFO air.[48]

15. During the two-to-three weeks of the study, approximately one-third of participants reported cancelling or changing daily activities due to hog odor. As we explained in our paper published by Environmental Health Perspectives, "[t]ypical changes included closing windows, avoiding sitting in the yard and socializing with friends, cancelling plans to barbecue, not putting clothes out to dry, declining exercise via outdoor walks, not putting up Christmas lights, not being able to garden or mow the lawn, not washing the car, or not being able to sit on the porch."[29] Participants reported cancelling or changing their daily activities 11.3 times more often when average odor in the past 12 hours was rated as 5 or greater on the 0-8 scale compared to times when average odor was less than 1. Hog CAFO odors were highly disruptive of daily activities in this population despite the fact that three-quarters of participants indicated they grew up on a farm where they had experience with livestock odors.[29]

16. There is considerable evidence documenting the impact of malodor on annoyance.[4] In the case of odors from hog CAFOs, a broad range of mood impacts has been of interest. Authors of the first published study of impacts of hog CAFO odor on North Carolina residents concluded that, "[p]ersons living near the intensive swine operations who experienced the odors reported significantly more tension, more depression, more anger, less vigor, more fatigue, and more confusion than control subjects."[47]

17. As part of the repeated-measures study described in paragraph 13 above, our research group evaluated hog odor and measured pollutants as triggers of stress and negative mood.[4] Participants reported feeling more stressed or annoyed, nervous or anxious, gloomy or unhappy, angry or grouchy, and confused or unable to concentrate, during times when hog odors were stronger. Participants also reported higher levels of stress and annoyance during times when air pollution monitoring instruments showed that concentrations of hydrogen sulfide and semi-volatile PM_{10} were higher in their neighborhoods.[4] The American Journal of Public Health, the peer-reviewed scientific journal of the American Public Health Association, published these findings.

18. Odorant chemicals have physiological as well as psychological effects in humans. Most people have experienced salivation in response to the pleasant smell of good food. Malodor also has physiological effects. Participants in the study described in paragraph 13 above measured their blood pressure after sitting outdoors for 10 minutes. To limit the possibility of errors in recording blood pressure values, each participant printed their blood pressure readings with a time stamp and pasted the print-outs in their diaries. Participants' diastolic blood pressures were higher at times when they reported stronger hog odor outside their homes than when there was less odor (see Wing, 2014,[22] Figure 3.12). Their systolic blood pressures rose with the concentrations of hydrogen sulfide, measured in a central location in their neighborhoods at the time they sat outside.[19] In addition to providing an objective measure of people's physiological response to odorant compounds that cause annoyance, physical symptoms, and disruption of daily activities, repeated acute elevations of blood pressure are a medical concern due to their potential to contribute to chronic hypertension.[19] The peer-reviewed scientific journal Environmental Health Perspectives published these findings.

19. Consistent with well-documented effects of ammonia, PM_{10}, and volatile organic compounds, as well as prior reports of human impacts of air pollution from hog CAFOs, participants in the repeated-measures study described in paragraph 13 experienced physical as well as mental discomfort in the presence of hog CAFO air pollution. After sitting outside for 10 minutes at their selected morning and evening times, participants reported more irritation of the eyes, nose, throat, skin and more coughing when hog odor was stronger compared to when it was weaker or absent.[9] Eye irritation was related to concentrations of hydrogen sulfide and PM_{10}. One or more respiratory symptoms were related to hydrogen sulfide, components of PM_{10}, endotoxin, and odor. A measure of lung function, forced expiratory volume in one second, which participants took following their ten-minute outdoor exposure, declined with increasing average concentrations of fine particles ($PM_{2.5}$) in the past 12 hours.[9] These physical effects of exposure to airborne emissions from hog CAFOs help explain the stress, annoyance, and inconveniences experienced by hog CAFO neighbors. Epidemiology, the peer-reviewed journal of the International Society for Environmental Epidemiology, published these findings.

20. Research based on qualitative interviews can help elucidate the influence of social factors in environmental health research.[50] Our research team therefore designed a study using in-depth interviews. After completing the repeated-measures study described in paragraph 13, 42 participants and seven other volunteers from the same neighborhoods participated in semi-structured interviews designed to obtain information about how odor from the hog CAFOs in their neighborhoods affected their enjoyment of life and beneficial use of property. The interviews were recorded and transcribed, and codes were assigned to participants' responses.[12]

21. Our study found that hog CAFO odor impacts neighbors' ability to engage in activities they enjoy the most and that they expect to be able to do inside and outside their homes. These include "cookouts, barbequing, family reunions, socializing with neighbors, gardening, working outside, playing, drying laundry outside, opening doors and windows for fresh air and to conserve energy, use of well water, and growing vegetables." We concluded that

"[t]he types of activities that are restricted by hog odor are social interactions, physical activities, energy- and cost-saving activities, relaxing outside or indoors, and sleeping." We further noted that restriction of these activities is important because they "have been shown to positively affect health, improve overall well-being, reduce stress, and strengthen social networks."[12] The peer-reviewed journal, New Solutions: A Journal of Environmental and Occupational Health Policy, whose editorial office is at the University of Massachusetts, Lowell, published our findings.

22. Liquid contaminants from hog CAFOs are released to the environment through leakage from animal waste pits, runoff from land application of liquid wastes, atmospheric deposition (e.g. through rainfall), and failure of the earthen walls of waste pits.[51] Parasites, bacteria, viruses, nitrates, and other components of liquid hog CAFO waste pose threats to human health.[1]

23. In 2010 we conducted a study of fecal contamination of streams in an area of eastern North Carolina with a high density of hog CAFOs.[3] In many samples we found elevated levels of fecal indicator bacteria that are routinely used for public health protection. However presence of these organisms does not indicate whether the fecal contamination comes from livestock, wild animals, domestic pets, or humans. To determine whether fecal contamination of these streams could be traced to nearby hog CAFOs, we evaluated several candidate microbial source tracking markers. Microbial source tracking markers use DNA from microorganisms that have become adapted to the gastrointestinal tracts of particular species of animals, making them useful for identifying the type of animal that is responsible for fecal contamination. We found that two candidate markers, fecal Bacteroidales Pig-1-Bac and Pig-2-Bac, were present in 80% and 87%, respectively, of hog waste and wallow water samples, but were absent in chicken, turkey, goat, horse, cow, and human fecal samples. We found Pig-1-Bac and Pig-2-Bac to be more prevalent in samples taken downstream compared to upstream locations near hog CAFOs, and we found that their prevalence increased following rain events that can transport fecal waste from hog CAFO sprayfields into streams. This study provides direct evidence that hog CAFOs contaminate nearby streams during routine operations. Science of the Total Environment, an international peer-reviewed journal for scientific research into the environment and its relationship with humankind, published this research.

24. Routine air and water pollution from hog CAFOs can be contrasted with pollution that occurs following storms. Overflow of waste pits during heavy rain events results in massive spills of animal waste into neighboring communities and waterways (see Wing, 2014,[22] Figures 3.6 and 3.7). For example, our research group identified 237 hog CAFOs with permit coordinates that were located in flooded areas identified from satellite imagery taken approximately one week after Hurricane Floyd hit eastern North Carolina in September, 1999 (see Wing, 2014,[22] Figure 3.8).[16] These findings were published in Environmental Health Perspectives.

25. North Carolina state-issued operating permits require hog CAFOs to maintain adequate freeboard in their fecal waste pits to protect the pits from overflowing during times of heavy rains or increased production of waste. Freeboard is the space between the liquid waste and the top of the earthen containment wall. However, the permit requirement to maintain freeboard sometimes conflicts with the permit requirements that hog CAFOs apply waste at agronomic rates and that they refrain from land application during rain or when the ground is frozen and unable to absorb waste. Over-spraying of waste can contaminate ground and surface water near hog CAFOs. The North Carolina Department of Environment and Natural Resources has, in the past, temporarily waived prohibitions against non-agronomic land application to allow hog CAFOs to protect their freeboard. The Department does not have adequate personnel and other resources to surveil the thousands of sprayfields they have permitted, many of which are not visible from state roads, to evaluate how often non-agronomic land application occurs. Off-site dispersion of liquid wastes from fecal waste pits and sprayfields through routine leakage of waste pits, over-application, and storm events, threatens water quality of hog CAFO neighbors.

26. Extensive evidence shows that North Carolina hog CAFOs release toxic air and water pollution into surrounding neighborhoods where it directly impacts the health and well-being of neighbors. The affected communities are disproportionately composed of low-income people of color who have fewer protections from environmental hazards, less ability to leave their homes during high exposure periods, and less access to medical and clinical services than residents of higher income communities; these factors increase their vulnerability to the harmful impacts of hog CAFO emissions.[15,52] This evidence is consistent with evaluations of CAFO impacts in other locations[26] and understanding of the increased vulnerability of low-income populations to environmental hazards.

My office is at an out of office retreat tomorrow & I am already pretty booked up on Thursday & out on Friday. How does early next week look?

Do you all have the revised comments on the RFI? I am going to try to get an updated draft to Lilian for internal EPA review next week. She was asking about it earlier today. Thanks, Mary

Dear Ms. Golighty-Howell and Ms. Dorka,

On behalf of North Carolina Environmental Justice Network, Rural Empowerment Association for Community Help and Waterkeeper Alliance, Earthjustice is submitting the attached documents to supplement the record in our September 3, 2014 complaint against the North Carolina Department of Environment and Natural Resources (now North Carolina Department of Environmental Quality), EPA File Number 11R-14-R4.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any question.

I have spoken with Ms. Dorka recently about setting a time for the Office of Civil Rights to interview Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy whose report and declaration are included in this supplement. We have renewed this request multiple times over the last year. In order to move the process forward quickly, Ms. Dorka and I talked within the last two weeks about the possibility that I might offer some dates on which Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy might be available. Unfortunately, Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy is now in the hospital. We are hoping that his condition will improve and that we will be able to send some dates and will keep you posted.

I am cc'ing both Elizabeth Haddix from the UNC School of Law, Center for Civil Rights, and my colleague Alexis Andiman, who are both also representing complainants in this matter.

We will send a courtesy copy of this supplement in hard copy form.

Thank you,

Marianne Engelman Lado

EPA Revolving Loan Fund

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Revolving Loan Fund (Loan Fund) is comprised of the Clean Water State Revolving Fund and the Drinking Water State Revolving Fund established by General Statute 159G-22 and receives federal and state funds. This Loan Fund was established to provide loans and grants as allowed under federal laws for wastewater projects and public water systems to meet the water infrastructure needs of the State.

The net position of the Loan Fund increased 7.63% to $1.4 billion in 2014. This increase in net position is due to the Loan Fund focusing on streamlining its processes (requiring municipalities to follow specified timelines that resulted in more infrastructure projects being completed during the year) and prioritizing the spending of funds from the U.S. EPA (federal) capitalization grant for these projects (as opposed to funds from other sources). The amount of new loans exceeded total amount of principal repaid on the existing loans which resulted in an increase to notes receivable. However, the total amount of loans issued to municipalities was less than the total amount repaid and the total amount of grants received from the U.S. EPA, resulting in an increase to cash. Operating income was $15.08 million (operating revenues less operating expenses), and net non-operating revenues were $70.67 million. Net non-operating revenues consisted primarily of noncapital grants (federal capitalization grants). Noncapital grants increased 28.23% to $88.92 million. Noncapital grants increased primarily because the U.S. EPA requested that states focus on using federal capitalization grant funds for infrastructure projects.

Source: NC June 2014 CAFR (p. 79)

EPA Revolving Loan Fund

This fund accounts for the activities of the State's clean water and drinking water revolving loan programs, which provide low cost loans to units of local government for the construction of wastewater facilities and drinking water infrastructure. These programs are financed primarily by federal capitalization grants from the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), interest earnings on loans, loan repayments, and state funds (i.e., bond proceeds and State appropriations).

Operator: This is Conference # 163166159.

(Erica): Hello.

(Maryanne): Hi, it's (Maryanne) (Ingermanlotto~~inaudible~~) and (Alexis Anderman) from (Earth Justice).

(Erica): Hello (Maryanne) and (Alexis). This is (Erica Farrell) from Title VI (OCR).

(Maryanne): Hi there.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): This is (Jeryl~~Gerill~~ Covington) with OCR.

(Joanna): Hi, this is (Joanna Johnson) from (OGC~~TC~~). I believe we're just going to wait a couple more of more minutes. We're waiting for somebody else to join us on our side. Is Dr. Wing on the phone?

(unknown): Not yet.

(Erica): OK.

(Elizabeth): Hi, it's (Elizabeth Haddock) at the Center for Civil Rights.

(Erica): Hi (Elizabeth), this is (Erica Farrell) from the Title VI OCR office and then we also have (Jeryl~~Gerill~~ Covington) and (Johanna Johnson).

(Elizabeth): Great, great. Hope everybody is well.

(Erica): Yes.

(Maryanne): Hello (Liz) it's (Maryanne) and (Alexis).

(Elizabeth): Hey there.

(Maryanne): We just received a quick note.

(Unknown~~Erica~~): Hello.

Steve Wing: Hello, this is Steve. Sorry for being a few minutes late.

(Elizabeth): Hey Steve, it's (Elizabeth) and (Maryanne) and (Alexis) are on too.

Steve Wing: Oh, so we're waiting for?

(Elizabeth): I think EPA's on as well EPA.

(Erica): They're on yes. Hi Steve.

Steve Wing: Hello.

(Erica~~Erica~~): So we have folks who will introduce themselves in the office of civil rights and the office of general counsel. I think they were also waiting for one more staff member from the office of general counsel.

(Joanna): OK. I think EPA's (also) here now too.

(Erica): OK, great.

(Joanna): Do you want to?

(Erica): OK. So is Dr. Wing?

(Joanna): Yes, he joined us.

(Erica): OK, good afternoon everyone. Again this is (Erica Farrell) from the office of civil rights with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency in Washington D.C. and thank you for taking the time to talk with us. And as you know the office of civil rights is investigating whether North Carolina Department of Environmental Quality I'm sorry, regulation of swine feeding operations discriminate against African Americans, Latinos and native Americans on the basis of race and national origin and neighboring counties and violate Title VI in EPA's implementing regulations.

And just so that you know, this interview will be recorded. And for the record Dr. Wing, can you please provide your full name?

Steve Wing: My full name, Steven with a V, Bennett Wing.

(Mary): And can we – this is (Mary Alone) from EPA office of general counsel. Can we just go around and say all who's on the phone before we sort of launch in here? So this is (Mary Alone) from the office of general counsel at EPA and we'll go around the room here.

(Joanna): Hi, this is (Joanna Johnson). I'm also from general counsel at EPA.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): This is (Jeryl~~Gerill~~ Covington) with the office of civil rights at EPA.

(Erica): And again this is (Erica Farrell) from the office of civil rights Title VI office.

(Mary): (Maryanne), you want to do your group?

(Maryanne): Sure so I'll start. It's (Maryanne Ingermanlotto) and I'm with Earth Justice. (Alexis)?

(Alexis): (Alexis Anderman) also with Earth Justice.

(Maryanne): And (Elizabeth).

(Elizabeth): (Elizabeth Haddock) at the UNC Center for Civil Rights.

(Brad): (Brad Dusham) also at the Center for Civil Rights.

(Erica): OK, that's it.

(Mary): And then Dr. Wing. OK yes.

(Erica): OK. Now again Dr. Wing could you provide us your professional contact information specifically your office address, office telephone number and office email.

Steve Wing: Yes. My address is department of epidemiology campus box 7435 University of North Carolina Chapel Hill, North Carolina 27312. Phone, 919-966-7416. Email, (steve_wing~~gayne~~@unc.edu).

(Erica): Thank you. And we're going to start with a line of questioning.

(Mary): So this is (Mary Alone) and I wanted to say you know thank you Dr. Wing for making yourself available for the interview and that you know if at any time you need to take a break or we need to break just let us know and we'll do that. And then also if we need to end early and you know reschedule or whatever we'll make whatever accommodations we need to.

Steve Wing: Thank you.

(Mary): But we very much appreciate you making yourself available. So we're going to start off with some quick sort of one off questions and then get into more of a general conversation as we go on. The first question was just was – is have you ever conducted any research that was funded by the pork industry?

Steve Wing: No I have not.

(Mary): Have you ever conducted any research on behalf of the North Carolina legislature such as the environmental review commission or any part of the North Carolina legislature?

Steve Wing: No I have not.

(Mary): OK. And this is just a general question about your research. So we see you know we see that you've focused on the swine industry and I'm just sort of wondering if you could give us a little background as to why not all ~~(inaudible)~~ cases in North Carolina but you know why you focus on swine.

Steve Wing: Well I was introduced to the problem in 1995 when I began to meet residents of eastern North Carolina who were impacted in their neighborhoods by swine operations. So I followed and I researched. I learned early on that there were – there was quite a bit of research about the swine confinements the new liquid waste management systems. But it was almost entirely about the engineering of the waste pits and the spray fields, animal nutrition, veterinary practices and so on and there was not a literature on environmental health impacts.

And because the residents that I met believed they were being most affected by the swine industry and keep in mind this is 20 years ago, I decided to focus on that. The poultry industry had not expanded as much at that time as it has now. Also because of the engineering waste management practices the liquid waste systems I believe had more potential for impacting neighbors than the dry (litter) system that most of the turkey and chicken operations use.

They are not benign but at the time I began it appeared to me that the swine operations were more important and furthermore they had developed very rapidly. The number permitted had increased very rapidly. And one of the other – one of the other issues that was brought up repeatedly by the residents that I met was that these facilities were disproportionately placed in communities of color. So it was that combination of issues that led me to focus on the swine operations.

(Mary): I have a question about you know the increase in the number of swine over time and I have to be – I have yet to figure out the answer to it and I'm hoping maybe you can help me. So in your declaration you say that between I think it was the early 80s and 2007 the number of swine increased from 2 million to 10 million. And then we also see that there was a moratorium on the expansion of swine facilities and you know permitting of new facilities between '95 and 2007. And I've been trying to figure out if there's you know when I read the sort of plain language of what is a moratorium and no expansion and no new ones how the numbers of pigs jumped.

Steve Wing: The expansion was primarily during the period of between the early 80s and 1998. Thereafter the numbers fluctuate. There were some facilities that had applied for permits before the moratorium that weren't able to open but for the most part the growth was between around 1980 and the late 1990s.

(Mary): OK, all right. Now we have some specific questions regarding the disparity studies and then after that we're going to just sort of focus on your interaction with North Carolina DEQ and he swine regulatory – the swine waste regulatory process. But we had a specific request about the October 19th, 2015 update. And you know we read that you had basically cleaned the coordinates you know to make sure that you had the right ones before you did the analysis. And we were wondering if we could get – if we could get those coordinates and any information you have describing the changes that were made to the North Carolina coordinates and the reasons for those changes.

Steve Wing: Definitely. I'm you know I haven't done the programming myself but I can contact either (Jill Johnson) or one of the research assistants at UNC and we can provide that to you.

(Mary): OK that'd be great. We have spoken to – we spoke to Dr. (Johnson) I'm sure (Maryanne) told you and she was able to answer some of our questions about the 2014/2015 study but we still had a couple that we would like to ask you. And you know part of this is just – a lot of it is us we're not epidemiologists, trying to get a firm grasp on how we articulate to policy makers within EPA and those that we have to talk with. Y~~y~~ou know being able to explain in very plain terms what your study says and you know what it means.

And one of the – one of the questions that we have is just about getting a grip on the methodology that's used to count people in the two studies, in the one you did in 2000 and in the 2014/2015 study. And we were trying to figure out different ways to you know have you help us. And I think what we came up with we thought might be the easiest would be for the 2014/2015 study would be to look at table four and just you know march us through the numbers. Do you have it in front of you by any chance?

Steve Wing: I'm looking at table four right now from the updated study.

(Mary): From the – right. So it's at the top of page 14, right. Make sure we're talking about …

Steve Wing: That's right.

(Mary): OK.

(Elizabeth): Can you hold on just a second? I'm just pulling it up as well.

(Mary): Sure, sure.

(Elizabeth): So this is from the 2015 study?

(Mary): Yes, the 2015 study.

(Elizabeth): OK.

(Mary): And I was hoping this would help us you know just sort of generally march through how it's done because I have read and reread it the study and just tried to figure it out and it's me. (I'm not sure). I just have a, I have a tough time processing this kind of information. So in the first column the percent people of color, what you're – that is the, that represents of – tell me what that – tell me what that represents there, that column?

Steve Wing: OK. So the first column percent POC are the ranges of percent for census blocks. So there are if you look at the first and second columns, there are 559,000 179,000 people who live in census blocks with no people of color.

(Mary): And the census blocks are – the census blocks that you're counting are those that have a centroid within three miles of a CAFO, right?

Steve Wing: No this is in this case this is all the census blocks in the study area.

(Mary): All the census blocks in the study area, OK.

Steve Wing: So the sum of the column population yields the total number of people in the study area. Because everyone in the study area lives in a block that either has no people of color or has less than 20 percent, 20 to 40 et cetera up to 80 to 100 percent people of color.

(Mary): OK. And to get into the study area you had to be a census block that had a CAFO in it?

Steve Wing: No, that's not the case. The study area was defined as the whole state minus …

(Mary): OK, right.

Steve Wing: The five major cities and the western counties which have no permanent CAFOs either in those counties or an adjacent county.

(Mary): OK and these are all …

Steve Wing: And that's we made following the work we had done previously that had been peer reviewed.

(Mary): Repeat that. I think I interrupted – I was going to interrupt you but so.

Steve Wing: The decision about how to define the study area mirrored the decision we made in our 200 publication.

(Mary): Right, OK. OK, so this is – these are the populations in the study area, OK. So then the ratio's comparing the percent of people residing within three miles of an (IHO) in blocks with people of color compared to blocks without people of color?

Steve Wing: No, that means that there's a – what we have is the population of each of the categories the percent people of color that lives within three miles in a census block within three miles of an (IHO) divided by the total population give the percent of people in that group that live within three miles of an (IHO). The ratio column is the ratio of each of the categories above zero to the proportion in the zero category.

(Mary): Right.

Steve Wing: And it's a way of comparing to look for whether there's a trend across the categories of people of color.

(Mary): OK. Ok a~~A~~nd then the 95 percent CI, can you explain that?

Steve Wing: That's CI stands for confidence interval. There's for each of the ratios there's a statistic called the standard error and the 95 percent confidence interval is a standard way of expressing that. It's the standard error times 1.96 subtracted from and added to the prevalence ratio. And it gives an idea of the amount of data that each of these ratios is based on. So, narrow confidence intervals and these are narrow shows that, if a few people were moved one way or the other it wouldn't make any difference to the prevalence ratio. It's a very stable statistic.

If for example looking at the 0.75 in the second row, the confidence interval is 0.74 to 0.75. So you could move people back between categories and it wouldn't result in much change. But if the confidence interval were say 0.30 to 2.8 then by moving a few people you would get quite a different prevalence ratio. And we provide these confidence intervals because they're very standard. I didn't spend much time writing about them.

(Mary): Yes, that's all right.

Steve Wing: And but if this report were to be read by an epidemiologist or a statistician or an economist or someone else who uses these kinds of statistics they would expect the confidence intervals to be provided.

(Mary): OK, thank you. OK now we were going to look at the 2000 study. Do you have that with you by any chance?

Steve Wing: I'm sure I haven't kind of – no, I have to open it up. Just a moment.

(Mary): OK. Well you know maybe we don't need to have you look at it in particular but …

Steve Wing: Yes, I remember it pretty well.

(Mary): OK. Was there the difference between the way you counted you developed who was impacted how you counted the people seems to be slightly different. So maybe if you could just …

Steve Wing: It is slightly different and I can explain that.

(Mary): OK.

Steve Wing: So in the 2000 study we wanted to analyze both race and poverty. Poverty is not (inaudible – the recording was not clear here) it's available for census blocks. Census blocks are the smallest enumeration unit used by the U.S. Census Bureau. Race is available at the census block level but not poverty. Block groups are larger geographic areas.

And that study was based on whether there was an (IHO) in the block group because those areas are large enough to be able to contain potentially numerous (IHOs). In the current study we were not looking at poverty and that's because of the way Title VI is written. We just were looking at race and ethnicity. So we could use the census blocks which are much smaller and they would be more specific to counting people and their proximity to the (IHOs). So they are less heterogeneous because they're smaller.

Furthermore, we had the benefit of 15 years or so of research where we were getting an idea of more quantitative idea of how far away people could be impacted by the air pollutants from these facilities and we chose three miles. At some point any particular radius is arbitrary. Three miles had been used in some of our prior work and based both on our measurements and our interviews with people we felt that it was clear that people can be – can experience negative impacts of the air pollutants at that distance.

So in the latter study the 2015 report, we considered people potentially exposed if they lived in a block that was within three miles of an (IHO) as opposed to the first study where people were potentially counted as potentially exposed if they lived in a block group, a collection of blocks that had an (IHO). And the difference is because of number one, our focus on race and ethnicity and number two, our increased understanding of the distance over which these facilities can affect people. Does that answer your question?

(Mary): That answers it perfectly, thank you. And it answers another question that we had about you know over time it seemed like the – you had, there were different distances in different studies but the more recent ones we're seeing seem to be focusing on this three mile distance and so …

Steve Wing: And I would call your attention to the most recent study that was provided in your materials published just earlier this year in which we measured (hydrogen sulfide at) public middle schools. And in that study the quantitative relationship between the hydrogen sulfide levels at the schools and the area of the swine barns that are up wind is about three miles, five kilometers.

(Mary): Right, right yes I read that. And I have a quick question about that study. As I read it, what I understood it to say is that the monitor was placed downwind meaning the wind blows from the (case load) to the monitor at the school and that the measurements of the (hydrogen sulfide) tended to be higher when the wind was not blowing, when the air was just kind of hanging around.

Steve Wing: OK, let me elaborate …

(Mary): But there was no (measurable), OK.

Steve Wing: Just to clarify that.

(Mary): OK.

Steve Wing: The monitors were at the schools continuously for several weeks. So during the time the monitors were at the schools the wind blew from different directions and sometimes it was wind speed was below what's detectable so the air was pretty still. So the monitors were in place during all those conditions whatever direction the wind was coming from or however fast it was blowing. And what we found was that the hydrogen sulfide levels were very strongly correlated with the number of – with the area of the swine barns up wind at the hour that the measurement was made.

So basically we took all the hours that were during which the monitor was operating at the school, we divided the weeks up into hours and for each hour we assigned a wind direction and a wind speed. And for those hours when the wind was coming from a direction where there were (IHOs) and more (IHOs) and more nearby (IHOs) the hydrogen sulfide levels were higher.

(Mary): OK.

Steve Wing: And when the winds were coming from other directions the hydrogen sulfide levels were either undetectable or lower.

(Mary): Thank you, that was very helpful. OK, so that was a digression. We're going to go back to the – we're going to go back to the 2000 study and the 2015 study. Were there any critiques or criticisms of the 2000 study when it came out?

Steve Wing: Well I received some verbal criticism and concern. I'm not aware of you know any publications or letters to the editor or to the journal or anything like that that challenged any of our findings or our methods.

(Mary): And what – and by verbal criticism what do you mean?

Steve Wing: Well, (in) maybe it was early 2000 I presented a version of this paper at the annual meeting at the Society of Toxicology I was invited to present the results there. And after I presented the results there was some press coverage and I was called to the North Carolina bunch of representatives agriculture committee to testify about this study. And some of the legislators were they seemed to be concerned about our findings.

I wouldn't say that the criticisms were about – they were not like scientific criticisms about how we analyzed the data or about the quality of the study. It was about our findings that there was this disproportionate impact. Actually I don't know if you have a copy of it but I wrote an article about that experience, that includes a description of that of my appearance before the house agriculture committee. I think it was published in 2002 and it also describes the Pork Council's use of the Public Records Act request to try and obtain confidential information about the study participants in one of our subsequent studies.

And if you're at all interested in the potential that researchers might be might face some kind of intimidation tactics when they research this topic I could send you that paper.

(Mary): Yes would you please.

(Gerill): Dr. Wing, this is (Gerill Covington). I do have one question about your presentation at the legislature. Do you have a copy of or do you know if that was a recorded meeting or open to the public where minutes might be available from your presentation?

Steve Wing: You know I've never seen any and I don't know, I really don't know whether there was a recording or minutes were taken.

(Gerill): OK. Do you know if you were in a recordable room in the Archdale building?

Steve Wing: I was in the Archdale building in a committee meeting room but I don't know what their technology was.

(Gerill): OK.

(Mary): OK, thank you. So …

(Maryanne): Let me – this is (Maryanne). Let me just say we'll work with Steve to collect all this stuff and then we'll send it on to you.

(Mary): That's great. Thank you.

Steve Wing: And I would also mention you know just (in turn) that there were some pork industry lobbyists at that meeting who approached me after the public session to express their discontent.

(Mary): You mean after the – after you gave your testimony?

Steve Wing: Yes, that's right. And so these criticisms are not written or public to my knowledge but you ask if there were criticisms and that's what you know in particular what stands out for me.

(Mary): And is that were those – do you have that recorded in the article you wrote?

Steve Wing: Yes, I have some information in that yes.

(Mary): OK great, thank you. Well the next question was like a follow up to that as to whether anything you heard about the 2000 study led to a change in the methodology for 2015.

Steve Wing: No.

(Mary): OK.

Steve Wing: As I said, the criticisms that I heard were not about how the study was conducted or the data quality or the analytical methods. It was only about the findings and our interpretation.

(Mary): OK. And maybe just can you just tell us what the basic was, what the criticism was about the findings?

Steve Wing: Basically it was the criticism was well what do you expect? This is where the industry goes and it's poor and communities of color.

(Mary): What? No he's saying that …

Steve Wing: So basically the point that this shouldn't be surprising and it's not really news or anything.

(Mary): Right, OK. OK, so the 2014/2015 study did – was that sent to it was well. I guess the 2014 study was sent to North Carolina because it was attached in DEQ, NCDEQ because it was attached to the Title VI complaint, right (Maryanne)? They got it because it was one of your exhibits and you sent everything to them when you filed the complaint?

(Maryanne): I think that's correct but we will double check that.

(Mary): OK. Did you bring that 2014 study and or the update the 2015 study, other than as a part of the Title VI complaint for the 2014 one to North Carolina DEQ's attention?

Steve Wing: No, no I didn't work directly with them.

(Mary): OK. (Maryanne) did you by any chance when you sent it to us the update did it go to them?

(Maryanne): I don't believe it did but I can check that.

(Mary): OK. So have you …

Steve Wing: So just to clarify for me, DEQ is aware of the civil rights complaint. Is that true?

(Mary): Yes.

Steve Wing: They have a copy of the complaint, is that true?

(Mary): Yes.

(Maryanne): So I'm going to double check this but my recollection you know we before filing the complaint we submitted comments on behalf of a number of groups. You hadn't done the analysis yet but raising the concern that there was a disparate impact based on all the research that had been done up till that point and asking DEQ to do a disproportionality analysis and a disparate impact analysis. Then when we filed the complaint we – my recollection and I can I'll again double check, my recollection is we gave them a courtesy call and we sent them a copy as well.

Part of the reason I want to double check is I recall that there was one confidentiality issue and I recall our needing to let both EPA and DEQ know that that one particular map needed to be redacted and that we would send subsequent information. So my recollection is that we sent DEQ the whole package the first time around. Now when we've sent EPA subsequent filings I don't believe that we have sent DEQ additional information. And of course we went through mediation and in the mediation it was clear that they had received the complaint and it's not clear that they had read it but they had received it and you know, by that time it was more than a year had passed. So they definitely have the complaint and the study, the first study but I will check to confirm all that.

(Mary): OK, thank you. So since – and maybe this is addressed to both (Maryanne) and Dr. Wing. Since – have you heard anything from DEQ about the 2014 one? Because if they got one that would be the one they got, right.

Steve Wing: I haven't heard anything from DEQ directly. In fact but that's not unprecedented. They've never contacted me about any of our research.

(Mary): OK, well that's going to short circuit a lot of our questions coming down the line here. So we'll get (~~inaudible~~to that).

Steve Wing: They've had you know they've had some of them research. I feel quite confident including at the North Carolina environmental justice summit. But they have not approached me with any questions or requests for further information.

(Mary): OK. So for the 2014 study I guess I'm debating whether to ask this but I'm just going to go ahead and ask it. So …

(Maryanne): And (Mary), I'm sorry can I interrupt you? When you say 2014 study can we just be clear about which one we're talking about because we I think we've – you're not talking about the updated and that disparity analysis that came out in October.

(Mary): Right, I'm talking about the – well, we can say the 2014/2015 study. But I'm my assumption is that it wasn't made – the 2015 update had not been sent to DEQ. The only thing they would have gotten thus far is the 2014. So the question is just you know has there been any feedback from North Carolina DEQ on the '14 or the update? And the answer seems to be no.

Steve Wing: From my knowledge correct (and there's been) no response.

(Mary): Have you had – has there been any response or anything from the pork industry?

Steve Wing: Not to my knowledge.

(Mary): OK.

Steve Wing: And this is a topic which is a little bit sensitive. I realize this is not your question directly but I should mention, I believe you have a copy of the letter that I and some of my colleagues sent to (Christine Lawson) at DEQ before the new general permit was approved.

(Mary): Yes.

Steve Wing: You know I have to, I should let you know that I was told by an official at the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences that I had violated their policy for (external) researchers by sending that letter. So my contacts with DEQ are of concern to the funding agency that supported most of the research described in that letter because their – they have told me that although there was a request for public comments on the general permit which is what I was responding to, that I was only supposed to inform public officials about our research if I was asked as an individual. And so this is another kind of difficult issue regarding working under federal grants is the National Institute of Health apparently has some concern about informing government officials about research conducted with support from NIH.

And so this is – and the reason I bring it up is because it's to some extent, well to a large extent a disincentive for me to engage in any conversation with government officials including DEQ …

(Mary): I see.

Steve Wing: Unless they initiate it.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): Dr. Wing let me ask you when they, when you receive that information was that one of the stipulations of grant you accepted? That's what they were outlining for you?

Steve Wing: It's not in the grant but it's a policy that was adopted I believe in 2014 but possibly 2013.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): OK. But your presentation, your public comments would have preceded that policy initiation or just in the same timeframe of the general permit being issued? Which came first, the policy or the public hearing request by (DENA) at the time when the general permits were being renewed?

Steve Wing: OK, so I'm looking at the date of my letter to (Christine Lawson). It's December 2013 so I'm off by a year. I just slipped there. So the policy came out I believe in 2013 or possibly 2012.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): OK because I'm looking at – I'm looking at one of the postings for the public meeting on the general permit it's dated October 28th, 2013.

Steve Wing: Right, I did not appear at that meeting.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): OK.

Steve Wing: The admonition that I received from NIEHS was about the letter that I wrote.

(Maryanne): So that is referring to – I'm sorry. Is it~~t's~~ exhibit two of the complaint filed in September of 2014.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): Right, his comments on the general permit.

(Maryanne): Correct.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): Yes.

(Maryanne): And can I just (while) I've interrupted already, the CC list that you asked about on the complaint field September 3rd, 2014 with your initial study and all of the exhibits included (Christine Lawson) division of water resources at (DENA) and (Tom Reeder) division of water resources at (DENA). So (DENA) received, now DEQ received the original complaint with all of the attachments including the 2000 and – what we're calling the 2014 disparities analysis. We did not have that CC list on the subsequent letter we sent on April you know or other correspondence that we have.

We're assuming that the office of civil rights is collecting information from DEQ that we're not receiving and we are sending information to the office of civil rights that we similarly are not giving to DEQ. So we didn't, it's my recollection that we did not send that – any subsequent information after the complaint. We got no response to the complaint and then we did not send any additional information nor did they ask for it after sending the complaint.

(Mary): OK. All right, thank you. Actually I just want to ask a question about NIEH. Maybe we can talk. So prior to that policy it would have been fine for you to send comments in on a general permit?

Steve Wing: That's my understanding.

(Mary): OK. For the 2014/2015 study are there any areas that you – any adjustments you'd make to it or that you, you know would explore if you had more time, money you know whatever however you might want to adjust it?

(Maryanne): Before answering just so I'm clear, (Mary) when you call it the 2014/2015 study I'm not clear what that is. Can we call the first study 2014 and then the updated study so we just distinguish between them?

(Mary): Sure. The 2014 study that was updated in 2015.

Steve Wing: Right. I would you know if I had had time and support I would potentially shorten the report for submission to a peer review publication but I wouldn't change the analysis.

(Mary): OK. Are there any plans to have it submitted for a peer review or publication?

Steve Wing: It's something I want to do but I've been occupied by other concerns and so I haven't done it yet.

(Mary): OK. Well our next question was about the distances and we went through that. We did the 95 moratorium. OK so now we're going to – now we'd like to talk about the renewal, the general permit and the renewal processes. And so we have your comments for the 2014 process. Did you participate in any of the previous renewals providing comments and your studies whatever the studies you had to that point you know to DEQ?

Steve Wing: No, I did not.

(Mary): So this was the first one? OK. All right so now we're going to – we're going to run through the North Carolina specific study and we're kind of going to ask the same questions about each study. And starting with the your 2000 study about occupational and community health effects. So the – well basically the questions we're going to ask are you know was that, did you or are you aware of that study being brought to the attention of North Carolina DEQ or any other state agency?

So for example the first one is about occupational health you know was it sent to any other state agency that might have jurisdiction over the issue and then to any local agencies? And if so was there a response to it? Were any actions taken after they heard about it? And then depending on the study just we're just asking if the methodologies that were used like in their study were they the kind – is it the methodology that would be used by North Carolina DEQ's air quality division? Or if it's a water analysis were the protocols there the kind that DEQ would use?

So we're just going to sort of march through each study and ask these questions.

Steve Wing: OK so …

(Mary): Do you want to take a – do you want to take a break or anything?

Steve Wing: I think we can keep going at this point.

(Mary): OK.

(Maryanne): Can I just mention before Dr. Wing answers from his point of view that I don't know the full range of ways in which DEQ might have seen these studies, heard about these studies you know government meetings, professional organizations. We know something about and Steve you can talk about the you know you've already mentioned the summit and their appearance at the summit. But I do at least want to point out that in December of 2013 you have it as exhibit three attached to the complaint, Earth Justice, Water Keeper and Southern Environmental Law Center submitted comments on the permit renewal that's the subject of the compliant which cites to many of these studies just looking at it quickly.

For example expert note 18 cites to Wing and Wolf among others. Footnote 21 cites to Wing and all potential impact. So I don't know how Dr. Wing would possibly have known all the ways in which that information might get to DEQ but you have in your possession at least one example of ways in which that was formally presented to DEQ before they made the decision on the permit.

(Mary): Yes, yes. And that's sort of what – we're only asking him what he knows about not, you know the ways that he knows it that it may have been brought to their attention. So the idea being these studies you know we're going back to 2000 there have been – general permit has been renewed a couple of times, right in this intervening time period. And so what I'm trying to see other than the fact that he has just said that he didn't participate formally in the hearing process, submit written comments into previous renewals, is he aware himself because maybe he didn't or he participated in you know some meeting with the DEQ or whatever where they were made specifically aware of the studies. OK?

(Maryanne): Yes, I mean go ahead. Yes, I want to make sure you use his expertise and time efficiently but feel free. Keep going.

(Mary): So and I understand they were all brought – they were all brought to the attention of the DEQ in your comments in 2013. What I'm trying to get at is prior to that have there been prior instances where any of these studies were formally brought to their attention. That's what I'm trying to get at. And you know we can march through all of them or just if there's a general answer of that he can give that's fine too.

Steve Wing: Well I can say that the Wing and Wolf study from 2000 that (Maryanne) just mentioned, that study was the results were first released by the North Carolina department of health and human services before the paper was published in the peer review journal. And I can't believe that they would have been unaware of that because there was press coverage and so on. But I didn't send it to them directly and I don't know if DHHS did.

Other than that I can only give the general answer that they have had personnel at our environmental justice summit where some of this research had been presented and discussed in addition to they having the opportunity to hear from neighbors of these facilities who described their personal experiences and difficulties and impacts of the air pollutants on their quality of life, ability to use their property, their health and so on.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): Dr. Wing this is one question. You said at the environmental justice meetings that have happened the network meetings you said (DENA) or DEQ representatives were there. Are you meaning the secretary or members of the water quality section? Who are you referring were at the EJ network meetings?

Steve Wing: I don't have a list of who was there but I'm sure the secretary never came, I'm sure (Christine Lawson) came. I don't know what years. I don't have a record of that. And I believe other DEQ who are department of environment and natural resources staff came and there's when (Christine) did not come.

(Mary): So the environmental justice summit, I mean (Maryanne) do you have information on these meetings when they occurred and who they were with or?

(Maryanne): Yes, we can get you more information about that.

(Mary): All right, yes. So the – so maybe we can follow up on that later and sort of figure that out. But it sounds like what you're saying is that over the years there have been a series of these meetings, DEQ's been invited and DEQ officials have shown up and that and you've made presentations there about your research.

Steve Wing: I have and so have other colleagues who participated in these studies.

(Mary): OK.

(JerylGerill): And this is (JerylGerill) again. I have one question. You mentioned that the department of health and human services released your Wing Wolf 2000 study. What were their comments to that? What reactions or follow up did you get from the department of health and human services?

Steve Wing: they actually provided financial support for that work. So their announcement of the findings took the form of a press release basically describing the results of a study that they supported.

(Mary): And then what happened? Then …

Steve Wing: Then what happened was on the same day that the press release came out the North Carolina Pork Council file a Public Record Act request. It was to me and my colleague Susanne Wolf copied to the UNC general counsel as well as to the DHHS division that funded the study demanding under the North Carolina public records statute all records associated with this study including the identities of the participants who I should note we had to protect their confidentiality in order to do this study under federal regulation.

(Mary): OK. So this was partially funded by the federal government or it came a grant through the state?

Steve Wing: Partly funded by NIEHS and partly funded by the North Carolina DHHS.

(Mary): OK, OK. And so did the department of health do anything after just releasing the study? Was there any sort of change in the world?

Steve Wing: You know I'm not sure. You know unfortunately what you're pointing out or the line of questioning is pointing out is how isolated many of us academic researchers are from the policy arena. And this is part of academic culture and it's reinforced by government agencies that are concerned that we would actually influence policy, the NIH policy to (inaudible – sounds like an incomplete pronunciation of a word) and we're not supposed to contact public officials.

So I've spent most of my time and effort getting the research into the open literature. I've spent some time with reporters. It's been covered not only by you know in the academic journals but to some degree by periodic journalist reports. But I'm not working in a culture that has close connections with the regulators and you know I think that's a problem and I will admit to you that it is. But partly we can't all do everything. And given the pressures to keep our funding and teach and advise students and so on which I have to do to keep my job, it leaves limited time to engage in dialogue and routine conversation with regulators.

(Mary): OK.

Steve Wing: I mean just to explain my situation.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): Yes Dr. Wing let me ask one question here. You mentioned funding. After you did the publication with the department of health and human services the press release was submitted and you got the request for information by the Pork Council, did that impact your funding that was issued - ? Was – did you view that as being retaliatory in nature the request …

Steve Wing: At the same time I know there was a pork industry request that came through a U.S. senator for NIEHS to investigate our grant. I was told that by our grants officer at NIEHS. We maintained our funding at that time so they did not determine that we had done anything wrong presumably. But at – I mean it took a lot of time and grief to deal with that but I don't believe at that time it influenced our funding from the federal government.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): What about at the state level because I'm assuming that there was a pass through of the federal funds to the state level department of health and human services?

Steve Wing: No, actually the funds we got from DHHS North Carolina DHHS were not federal funds, they were state funds. And we did not receive any more state funds for this kind of work ever again.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): OK. Let me ask you this and I hate to go back but on the press release from DHHS do you feel like they were supportive of your work, dismissive of your work? What you know I want to I guess get clarity what did …

Steve Wing: Right. I believe they were supportive of our work.

(JerylGerill): What did they do with – what did they do to further it? You said that you received no other state grant but what did they do to further the study that you and Wolf prepared?

Steve Wing: I'm not aware that they – I'm not aware of what they did beyond make public the findings. I mean I've always presumed that the North Carolina department of environment is not in a vacuum. It's insulated from all information on the outside produced by government and academic scientists. Now, maybe I'm naïve about this but I've assumed that there was at least through press coverage or some other means that there was some way that they would know about something that happens outside of their department.

(JerylGerill): Now even with that press coverage can you go back and clarify for me, I apologize. I just want to make sure I understand. Were you contacted by any other agencies or any other industries besides the Pork Council after the press release by DHHS?

Steve Wing: No.

(JerylGerill): OK.

Steve Wing: I mean I was contacted by people associated with the pork industry in writing, also by phone.

(Mary): And can you just talk a little bit about that?

Steve Wing: Well the part in writing was the Public Records Act request. I also received at least one phone call, maybe more than one from someone who wanted to talk with me about getting the identities of the study participants. And then gosh that reminds me, I also had some kind of bizarre voicemail that was accusing me of gosh I don't remember, may have called me a communist or something like that but I didn't pay really pay any attention to it.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): Let me ask one question. Who – since you lost this particular state funding, who's funding you at a state level for your continuation in this particular area if you don't mind?

Steve Wing: We have received no further state funds since 1999. I should say that the state health director at that time in 1999 was interested in the problem of these industrial swine operations and their impact on neighbors but he did not continue in his position beyond 2000. So I think it was partly through his interest that we were funded.

(Jeryl~~Gerill~~): How many applications or submissions of study details have you presented back to DHHS or any other state agency for potential funding?

Steve Wing: We have not. They to my knowledge they do not have (external) grant programs set up to fund researchers like me. The one that we had, the funding we had for the 1999 study which was published in environmental perspective in 2000, that study you know Wing and Wolf study was funded because we were collaborating with epidemiologists at DHHS. So it wasn't as though – we didn't apply for it independently.

We were actually collaborating with them because people in DHHS believed that there were problems that needed to be documented. And so they were present at the design phase of that study and participated in deliberations.

(Maryanne): I'm this is (Maryanne). I just want to be cognizant of the time and aware that we sent to you the office of civil rights a tremendous number of significant peer review papers on you know on the impact of hog operations on children, on health effects, on a variety of outcomes. I'm sure you all are watching the clock too but want to make sure you have time to ask Dr. Wing if you have any methodological or other questions or questions about his declaration as well.

(Mary): Thank you. We don't actually have any questions I guess (Maryanne). We've read the studies, we don't have any questions on them right now. And you know to the extent we do we'll follow up and you know either you know work with Dr. Wing if he's available or you know the co-authors if that's possible you know like we were doing before.

So really the last question we had because this was the – this was the information we were most interested in right now was you know Dr. Wing's particular perspective from working in the area for a long time and getting an understanding of how North Carolina has been you know apprised of this from perspective only and then what responses there may or may have not have been to them. And so you know sort of a wrap up question that we had was if you'd had any other if you had any Dr. Wing had any other – had interactions with North Carolina DEQ outside of the EJ summit which it sounds like there was some and submitting the comments in December 2013.

You know any interactions that you've had with North Carolina DEQ or any other part of the North Carolina government either the department of agriculture, labor you know HHS over the issue of regulating swine (cases)?

Steve Wing: I'm sure I can say very little. I should before I say definitively I could check my list of presentations that's on my CV. I'm trying to remember. I think they were mostly there was an EPA presentation but maybe not to – not to North Carolina's DEQ.

(Mary): OK.

Steve Wing: Now here it is. Now let's see, no hold on that's not it. Sorry, I wasn't prepared for this question.

(Maryanne): In your legal research and testimony section, page 30 of your CV says the state of North Carolina, Wade County office administrative hearings there was a case that was involving North Carolina there. That has been a …

Steve Wing: Right. That was not about swine operations.

(Maryanne): OK.

Steve Wing: But there is a section of my CV that begins on page 16 and which includes many public presentations about these – about this topic as well as other topics I've worked on the course.

(Mary): OK.

Steve Wing: It includes academic meetings in universities met.. At North Carolina State University where I'm pretty sure the one in 2010.

(Mary): The November 11th, 2010?

Steve Wing: Yes, that one I'm almost positive there would have been DEQ people there but I can't give you any names.

(Mary): OK, that's all right. That helps.

Steve Wing: And (if I) quickly scan through there I might be able to call your attention to another one.

(Mary): Do DEQ people ever come to your school and participate in any of the presentations that you have in UNC?

Steve Wing: Not to my knowledge.

(Mary): Or your presentations at Research Triangle Park?

Steve Wing: Not to my knowledge.

(Mary): OK. In your experience have you ever seen any evidence that suggested that the swine farm industry – well that North Carolina has better non-minority communities from the impacts from swine farms? Is there – is there …

Steve Wing: Well I can give you my opinion on that.

(Mary): OK.

Steve Wing: And it's I believe it's informed by experience although it's not something I could give you an equation and make a calculation of my conclusion here. But I strongly believe that these facilities would not have been permitted to operate as they do if they were primary locate – primarily located in predominantly white areas in the in other parts of the state. The facilities have extremely obvious impacts. If you go there if you I mean and you could now – let me make clear.

You could go there for a day and maybe there wouldn't be much air pollution on that day in the place you went because it's not constant all the time. And the other thing I can say is not every one is affected the same way. Some people are more sensitive than others. And what's presented in our research are the average effects among people in the study not that everyone is affected the same way.

But those caveats aside, the effects of the air pollution from these facilities are obvious and they impact a large proportion of the people exposed. And I believe they would not be tolerated by people who have more political clout and ability to harness resources to protect themselves. I believe that this system exists as it does currently because historically eastern North Carolina is part of what's called the black belt. Many people descended from slaves who worked on plantations in that region prior to the civil war.

It's politically disenfranchised, there's a great deal of intimidation that dates back to slavery days and through (Jim Crow) and lynching and school segregation which is still a great problem. And the population there has not had the resources and has also had the historical exploitation and oppression that's preventing them from being able to insist upon having decent environmental regulations that would protect them from pollutants that would not be tolerated by others. So I think you know that's what we have is as a system would not exist if eastern North Carolina was similarly demographically and economically to for example the part of the state that I live in the Piedmont in The Research Triangle area or Charlotte or Winston Salem or Greensboro or other areas that are better off.

The industry was only able to flourish in this manner because of the characteristics of the population in eastern North Carolina. I hope that addresses your question. I realize it may be broader but.

(Mary): Yes, I think it does. We did have a question about in your – in your declaration you mentioned that in Iowa the lagoons are underneath facilities. And we were just wondering you know I mean I can imagine why they were not done in North Carolina but if you would like to expand on that statement for us. Like what you know what is it – can you talk about it and how is it that that it didn't develop this way in North Carolina?

Steve Wing: Well one facet is that the water tables in eastern North Carolina are very high. So the org waste lagoons in North Carolina store waste to some degree below ground but also above ground because the earthen dams are mounded up above the grade of the land and that's a factor. There's also a factor of temperature you know the climate's different. There may be other reasons. I'm really not familiar with how the engineering difference is developed between the two states in detail.

(Mary): OK. Did you all have any other questions? Is there anything else that you would like to add? I'm going to ask in a minute. Is there anything else that you would like to ask, I mean like to say Dr. Wing?

Steve Wing: Well, you know I realize that you have research papers and that that's not really the subject matter of your interest today. But since we're on the phone I did want to mention one thing about some more recent studies that as far as how the studies are designed, the older studies tend to be what we call cross sectional studies where exposed populations meaning people who are living or attending schools near these facilities are compared to other people who live or attend school farther away. Those studies are common and widely used – it's a widely used design in epidemiology. But they are always subject to questions about how comparable the study population the exposed and unexposed populations are. And because there's no follow up in time they're – it's always possible that the people who have the illness had it before they were exposed because we don't follow them up.

But all the more recent studies they come from a design that is not so often used in epidemiology but it's a very strong design. And those are the studies in which we measure the pollutants in people's neighborhoods and we show that their symptoms increased when the pollutant levels increased. And I mean by their symptoms their ability to engage in daily activities of daily living. Their mental health, their physical health including symptoms and blood pressure and so on and lung function.

And those studies rather than comparing people who live next to the hog operations to people who live elsewhere, we compared each person to her or himself meaning that they were their experiences when the pollutants were present compared to the same person's experience when the pollutants were lower or absent. And it means not only do we have certainty about the timing that the effects occur after the exposures but the other factors that might differ between exposing populations and unexposed populations in cross sectional studies. Things like diet, exercise, occupation, body weight and so on, medical history. Those are not factors in these more recent studies. And this is something that has been pointed out as a great strength of our more recent work that it really does resolve some of the questions that might be raised about the earlier studies.

I just wanted you to be aware of that.

(Mary): Thank you, yes. I actually had noticed that but I can't remember which study it was where it was explained, you explained that.

Steve Wing: Oh good. OK, well I apologize for …

(Mary): No I'm sort of going through I'm trying to remember which study it was that I was reading that had that explanation about how you were doing thata ~~(inaudible~~). So but thank you for you know pointing that out and pointing out the idea about the difference between the older studies and the newer ones and …

(Maryanne): Do you all have more questions? There are a couple of things that I wanted to make sure we got out but if you have more questions I'll wait.

(Mary): No. The only question that we had (Maryanne) and I think it's probably it may be better addressed to you I don't know and it might be a quickie which is we were reading the change.org petition that (Elsie Herring) had written and in it she mentions that even when she that she smells the odors inside her house, even when she shuts the windows as the health department has advised. And so we were trying to – we've been looking around trying to figure out what you know where that came from the health department has advised.

Like do you know what that means what that advisory is, how it comes out, how it got to her, what she's talking about?

So it's not necessarily for Dr. Wing unless he happens to know the answer but which health department even?

(Maryanne): I don't know off the top. (Elizabeth), do you know off the top of your head?

(Elizabeth): No.

(Mary): OK. Well then …

(Maryanne): We can ask (Elsie) though and you could interview (Elsie). I'll also look back at her declaration to see if there's any more detail. I assume you've already done that.

(Mary): Yes, we did. Anyway just it was just if you happened to know the answer off the top of your head otherwise yes, we can go down that path. OK, so you wanted to make sure some things got brought out (Maryanne)?

(Maryanne): Yes. And frankly I thought there were going to be more questions and if we had more time I think it would be important to ask more about some of Dr. Wing's studies. We talked a little bit about the methodology of the 2000 study as compared to the you know the disparities analyses. These are some of the seminal studies in the area and we have the good fortune I suppose of having them on the you know the particular facilities at issue here.

So sometimes when looking at whether facilities have an impact where by analogy or trying to ay well something that happened somewhere else how does it affect here, there's a you know 2006 asthma symptoms study, the 2006 race poverty and potential exposure of middle school students, 2008 air pollution and odor, 2013 air pollution ISOs and blood pressure. Some of this was really path breaking community based participatory research. I also thought it could be helpful to get if you had any questions about the scope of Dr. Wing's expertise, you know to some degree the CV speaks for itself but I want to make – you know if time permitted I would want to make sure that if you had any questions that would be in your record.

But let me – let me just start with a couple of things that we didn't touch on at all that might not be as self evident. We talked about exhibit two which is the letter to (Christine Lawson) from December 2013 and Steve you asked about in that letter asked for the permanent list to create records to document environmental and health impact. Was there – there was a large question about did you get any response at all but do you know are there more records available now? Was there any response to that particular request? What happened with that and why did you focus on it?

Steve Wing: I'm not aware that there have been any changes in the availability of records. At the time I was particularly looking for information on daily spring times and amounts of the application of liquid manure broadcast into the air in hopes that we might be able to use that information in our studies. But unfortunately I haven't been in a position to follow up on that.

(Maryanne): We talked a little bit earlier about I think the whole – this interview started with why did you focus on swine and you mentioned the historical origins. Can you share – I guess I have two questions about the relationship between swine and poultry just to make sure this is discussed explicitly. One is the different geographic location of swine and poultry even as the poultry industry has expanded. So that's my first question.

Can you describe why we don't have perfect information about dry litter facilities for starters but also to the extent we know where those facilities are located to what degree they're co-located and to what degree they're in different places. And then I want to talk – ask a little bit about cumulative impacts in co-location.

Steve Wing: Well because the turkey and chicken facilities the broiler facilities are not permitted by the department of environment we don't have records of their locations. My understanding is that this goes back in part to post 9/11 rules that supposedly protect these facility's locations because of concerns from bio terrorism but I'm not able to rehearse in detail the rationale. But in any case we don't have latitude, longitude coordinates for the poultry facilities except for those few that use liquid waste management systems and therefore trigger the DEQ permitting.

On their geographic location just by county or by some remote imaging work that's being done there are – there is a concentration in eastern North Carolina which includes the two top turkey dense counties in the nation which are also in the top hog dense counties in the nation so there's clearly co-location. But there's also another area of fairly intense poultry production in the western Piedmont of the state in rural areas between The Research Triangle and Charlotte and north and south of that line and these are dry litter operations again, they're not liquid waste facilities. I think where they are co-located where the swine and poultry facilities are co-located they definitely have a potential for accumulative impact because it means that there can be animal waste in the air blown from more directions.

And the poultry waste is actually harder to track as far as its spatial impact because being dry it can be transported some distance before it' applied to land. And it's that land application process that results in the most acute release of particles because the dry litter is broadcast from the newer spreaders but it doesn't necessarily occur at the site of the CAFO, a the site of the buildings. So there is that's another issue that makes for complexity in conducting research on the spatial pattern of the impact.

(Maryanne): Is there – speaking as a epidemiologist or from your experience, is there any way of taking account of the cumulative impact of poultry? If you were looking at the impact of these hog facilities in eastern North Carolina is there a way you could take account of the cumulative impact or you know assess multiple exposures and/or assess also other indicators of vulnerability in the population?

Steve Wing: Yes. In fact this is the subject of a grant application that we submitted to NIEHS in which we proposed to collect particles in people's neighborhoods where they live both swine and poultry and to analyze genetic markers in the particle samples for DNA from bacteria that only live in the gut of swine and other bacteria that only live in the guts of poultry so that we could partition the particle mass present in the neighborhood into the proportion that comes from swine versus poultry. And then look at the impacts on people's health and quality of life when only swine is present, when only poultry is present and when they are both present together compared to when neither are present.

So we actually have proposed a method to do just what you asked about. Unfortunately that proposal I have to say was not funded. I submitted it around the same time that I wrote the letter to (Christine Lawson). And sometimes I fear that there may be a connection between my having violated one of their rules and the fate of our proposal but I don't have any evidence of that.

(Maryanne): In the absence of that new research is there – it doesn't have to be a you know I think what you've called a cookbook method of the assessing multiple exposures but how would you take that into account or could you take cumulative impacts or …

Steve Wing: Well one thing I would do is I would refer to testimony from residents which I think in my experience much of our formal research has validated what people have reported about their experiences. So we began – I began all this research being informed by the testimony of residents. And one of the things I paid attention to was that the stories people told, the accounts of their experiences were similar between people in different places that don't know each other that suggested to me that they weren't making it up. And there's plenty of testimony about the experience of living near both swine and poultry and I would begin there.

(Maryanne): (Elizabeth), do you have any questions you want to ask? I want to make sure we are able to wrap up?

(Elizabeth): No, I think that does it. Thank you so much Steve.

(Mary): Anybody else have any last words (Maryanne) or Dr. Wing?

(Maryanne): Well my – this is (Maryanne) and you know thank you to Dr. Wing. And we will try to collect information and there were a few things that came up during the course of the conversation and we'll try to get that. And if you have any additional questions (Mary) and (Jeryl~~Gerill~~) and others you know feel free to let me know.

(Mary): Yes. And once again Dr. Wing, thank you very much for your time and …

Steve Wing: You're welcome. This is something that I believe is very important. I think your investigation holds out some hope for many thousands of people who are living with this pollution and we look forward to the outcome of your investigation.

(Maryanne): Can I suggest one more question and this is for Steve? I'm aware that this was a complaint that you as a researcher and as a board member of North Carolina Environmental Justice network thought should be brought. Could you share with the office of civil rights why you thought it was important to bring it?

Steve Wing: To bring a complaint?

(Maryanne): Yes.

Steve Wing: Well, I feel that as I understand the history that Title VI has been used in the past to address disparities in access to hospitals and schools and public transportation and other public facilities. And therefore there's a track record of bringing about some advancement of the persistent racial inequalities that exist in the United States through this law. But we haven't seen it impact the environment and we still have serious issues with environmental races and environmental inequality.

And I think often it's very difficult for in the case where the pollution comes from corporate entities it's very difficult to get them to change directly. But the appropriate – one appropriate way to bring about change is when there is a state agency that actually is responsible for setting the guidelines for these polluters. And it's not just about one facility at a time that might violate the Clean Water Act or the clean – or some other rule. It' about the system and permitting.

And in this case as I tried to explain earlier, I don't think we would have this system in North Carolina were it not for the presence of the black belt and its historical exploitation and lack of political and economic resources and its history of racial intimidation. So I think it's a very appropriate approach and it deals with fundamental issues of responsibility and holding our government accountable to democratic principles.

(Maryanne): Thanks.

(Mary): Thank you. OK, all right well thank you very much again Dr. Wing.

Steve Wing: You're welcome. I'm happy to answer further questions if they come up later.

(Mary): Great. Thank you so much.

Steve Wing: You're welcome and bye, bye.

(Mary): All right bye, bye. Thank you.

Hi Velveta and Helena,

Ex. 5 - Deliberative/ Attorney Client

Can you let us know some dates over the next two weeks that you are available to meet?

Also, we are missing some parts of the exhibits. If you have the following, can you please email them to us.:

•□□□□□□□□ Vol I - Exs 1-26. The pdf stopped at Ex 6, sub-exhibit 11 (We have Ex. 6, the Declaration of Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy and sub-exhibits 1-11 of that Declaration but not sub-exhibits 12-17 of that declaration). We are missing Exhibits 7-26 in their entirety.

•□□□□□□□□ Ex 39 documents are very blurry. Did you all receive a clear copy?

Thank you so much.

Subject: Complaint under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964

Dear Administrator McCarthy and Ms. Golightly-Howell,

On March 7, 2014, the North Carolina Department of Environment and Natural Resources ("DENR") issued a general permit that allows industrial swine facilities in North Carolina to operate with grossly inadequate and outdated systems of controlling animal waste and little provision for government oversight, which has an unjustified disproportionate impact on the basis of race and national origin against African Americans, Latinos, and Native Americans in violation of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and EPA's implementing regulations.

North Carolina Environmental Justice Network, Rural Empowerment Association for Community Help, and Waterkeeper Alliance, Inc. ("Complainants") hereby submit the attached complaint against DENR and request that EPA investigate the complaint and require that DENR come into compliance with the law.

As you may know, Complainants and other community members in eastern North Carolina have complained to DENR about the adverse effects of the swine industry on their health and environment for years, to no avail. Today, Complainants ask that EPA take action.

We will be forwarding exhibits by separate email and, also, sending hard copies overnight by Federal Express to each of your offices. Of course, please let us know if these materials raise any question. We would welcome the opportunity to discuss the complaint.

Sincerely,

Jocelyn D'Ambrosio and Marianne Engelman Lado

Importance: High

Dear Administrator McCarthy, Ms. Golightly-Howell, Ms. Wooden-Aguilar, Mr. Tejada, Ms. McTeer Toney, Ms. Halim-Chestnut, Ms. Neal, Mr. Reeder, and Ms. Lawson:

I am writing to recall Volume 1 of the exhibits supporting the Title VI Complaint (Exhibits 1-26) that we sent to your attention on Wednesday, September 3, 2014, and to provide a revised version of Volume 1 of the exhibits. The September 3rd version of Volume 1 of the exhibits inadvertently included a map as an attachment to Exhibit 5, the Declaration of Anonymous 1. The revised Volume 1 of the exhibits removes the inadvertently included map.

Please destroy the September 3rd version of Volume 1 of the exhibits and any copies that you might have made, and use the attached revision to Volume 1. Please confirm that you have destroyed all copies of the September 3rd version of Volume 1 by replying to this email.

For Administrator McCarthy and Ms. GoLightly-Howell, who received hard copies of Exhibit 1, please destroy the map that accompanied Exhibit 5 and confirm its destruction by replying to this email.

Thank you,

Can you let us know some dates over the next two weeks that you are available to meet?

Also, we are missing some parts of the exhibits. If you have the following, can you please email them to us.:

- Vol I - Exs 1-26. The pdf stopped at Ex 6, sub-exhibit 11 (We have Ex. 6, the Declaration of Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy and sub-exhibits 1-11 of that Declaration but not sub-exhibits 12-17 of that declaration). We are missing Exhibits 7-26 in their entirety.

- Ex 39 documents are very blurry. Did you all receive a clear copy?

Thank you so much.

Subject: Complaint under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964

Dear Administrator McCarthy and Ms. Golightly-Howell,

On March 7, 2014, the North Carolina Department of Environment and Natural Resources ("DENR") issued a general permit that allows industrial swine facilities in North Carolina to operate with grossly inadequate and outdated systems of controlling animal waste and little provision for government oversight, which has an unjustified disproportionate impact on the basis of race and national origin against African Americans, Latinos, and Native Americans in violation of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and EPA's implementing regulations.

North Carolina Environmental Justice Network, Rural Empowerment Association for Community Help, and Waterkeeper Alliance, Inc. ("Complainants") hereby submit the attached complaint against DENR and request that EPA investigate the complaint and require that DENR come into compliance with the law.

As you may know, Complainants and other community members in eastern North Carolina have complained to DENR about the adverse effects of the swine industry on their health and environment for years, to no avail. Today, Complainants ask that EPA take action.

We will be forwarding exhibits by separate email and, also, sending hard copies overnight by Federal Express to each of your offices. Of course, please let us know if these materials raise any question. We would welcome the opportunity to discuss the complaint.

Sincerely,

Jocelyn D'Ambrosio and Marianne Engelman Lado

Can you let us know some dates over the next two weeks that you are available to meet?

Also, we are missing some parts of the exhibits. If you have the following, can you please email them to us.:

- Vol I - Exs 1-26. The pdf stopped at Ex 6, sub-exhibit 11 (We have Ex. 6, the Declaration of Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy and sub-exhibits 1-11 of that Declaration but not sub-exhibits 12-17 of that declaration). We are missing Exhibits 7-26 in their entirety.

- Ex 39 documents are very blurry. Did you all receive a clear copy?

Thank you so much.

Subject: Complaint under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964

Dear Administrator McCarthy and Ms. Golightly-Howell,

On March 7, 2014, the North Carolina Department of Environment and Natural Resources ("DENR") issued a general permit that allows industrial swine facilities in North Carolina to operate with grossly inadequate and outdated systems of controlling animal waste and little provision for government oversight, which has an unjustified disproportionate impact on the basis of race and national origin against African Americans, Latinos, and Native Americans in violation of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and EPA's implementing regulations.

North Carolina Environmental Justice Network, Rural Empowerment Association for Community Help, and Waterkeeper Alliance, Inc. ("Complainants") hereby submit the attached complaint against DENR and request that EPA investigate the complaint and require that DENR come into compliance with the law.

As you may know, Complainants and other community members in eastern North Carolina have complained to DENR about the adverse effects of the swine industry on their health and environment for years, to no avail. Today, Complainants ask that EPA take action.

We will be forwarding exhibits by separate email and, also, sending hard copies overnight by Federal Express to each of your offices. Of course, please let us know if these materials raise any question. We would welcome the opportunity to discuss the complaint.

Sincerely,

Jocelyn D'Ambrosio and Marianne Engelman Lado

Hi Daria. Your message fell and I'm just seeing it. By now, you know from Helena that we're planning to meet w/you, et al. next Friday. Thanks for letting us know it'll work. We'll need to schedule the meeting for the afternoon. As for the letter, as I let you know at DOJ's 10/2 Title VI training, the draft was under review by senior officials. It still is. We, however, anticipate that it'll be issued soon. Take care everyone.
