Finally, the news you've been waiting for - attached below is the DC Circuit's order granting our motion for voluntary remand. You will see that it comes with NO deadlines or status report requirements. I spoke with our DOJ attorney, CJ Morris, about what this means. [redacted].

In the meantime, OEM has restarted the CERCLA EPCRA workgroup and our next meeting is on Thursday Oct. 28. But for now, the order [redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted].

Order is pasted in below as well:

O R D E R

Upon consideration of the motions to govern future proceedings, the oppositions thereto, and the reply; and the motion for voluntary remand, the opposition thereto, and the reply, it is ORDERED that the motion for voluntary remand be granted. The court remands to the Environmental Protection Agency for further consideration the rule entitled "CERCLA/EPCRA Administrative Reporting Exemption for Air Releases of Hazardous Substances From Animal Waste at Farms," 73 Fed. Reg. 76,948 (Dec. 18, 2008).

Pursuant to D.C. Circuit Rule 36, this disposition will not be published. The Clerk is directed to withhold issuance of the mandate herein until seven days after resolution of any timely petition for rehearing or petition for rehearing en banc. See Fed. R. App.
P. 41(b); D.C. Cir. Rule 41.
