Thanks for sending this out Cheryl. While I understand your edits as an attempt to organize this monster into an engagement plan, it occurred to me this morning that we've really crafted an engagement request response plan more than an engagement plan. I'm going to stick with the organization/structure that was discussed on the phone, at least for this version.

I'd love to talk with you more about a broader engagement plan (after we catch our breath over the weekend?)

Oh, and I forgot to as during our call today. What about targeted outreach to homeless populations in the impacted areas?

Folks,

The updated engagement plan is attached, along with the tool we discussed; thanks for your thoughtful comments today. I think the new structure is getting us close to what we were hoping for.

Please send me any comments you have by noon tomorrow so I can send the draft plan out to the full group before the 3 pm meeting.
