Frank,

I very much appreciate you getting back to me (especially on a day you are out of the office), and agreeing to the extension of an additional week.

Best regards,

Mark

Frank,

I left you a voicemail this afternoon re: my below request for a one-week extension, to March 28, 2016, as it relates to the attached.

Please advise at your convenience. I appreciate your consideration.

Best,

Mark

Frank,

I am following up on my email below. My client is working diligently to collect information responsive to your attached request – however, I am hereby requesting the courtesy of another (very short) extension of one week – from March 21 to March 28, 2006.

Please advise if this acceptable. I appreciate your consideration.

Best,

Mark

Frank,

I am writing to confirm our conversation today where you agreed to a 30-day extension of time to respond to the EPA's Request for Information related to the LCP Chemicals, Inc. Site (see attached request).

The deadline to respond, therefore, is now March 21, 2016.

Thank you for your courtesies.

Best,

Mark

Mark  Thank you for you call. I realized I had omitted the exhibits and was going to mail out copies tomorrow, as I am out of the office today and did not have Dennis O'Grady's email. I am attaching those exhibits now.  I will also follow up on the delivery to G-I and see if there was a problem with mailing from here.  Thank you, Frank Cardiello
