Wow. That was fast. I was told at the end of a deposition yesterday that this might be coming and I'm on Grand Jury Duty today (on a break right now) and didn't have time to give you a heads up. Happy to brief you when you return on Thursday. Would rather talk in person than via email. Enjoy your time off if you are on annual leave.

Any idea what this is about? As a practical matter, I'm on leave this afternoon and Monday through Wednesday of next week, so I'm not sure I'd have time to speak with him even if you agree I could and should. (By the way, I can explain his reference to the First Amendment if you're curious.)

Dear Walter:

Trusting your embrace of the First Amendment right to petition, and respecting all folks in your shop, who are working hard and creatively on this site,

I have something to discuss with you that I think is your call. I believe I can summarize it in a 10 minute conversation. Jim Boyle, Sharon Kivowitz and others on this site are familiar with the sticky wicket before us and so I further trust that you would involve them in the discussion.

Thank you.

John
