What are the people thinking about?
I'm thankful that EPA has started the cleanup program. Otherwise we would never have known about the lead and arsenic. People should realize that there is just so much money for such projects. This is your tax money. The EPA can only do so much at this time.

Lead paint used in homes should be removed by the homeowner. Even the removal of lead pipes. I've lived in my home for 47 years and have taken care of these problems and didn't ask for others to pay for it.

Be thankful that the EPA started this cleanup program.
