Hey Jeryl,

We wanted the Welcome poster to be re-usable for every Anaconda public meeting, thus we didn't have it say "OU-8 Proposed Plan" or anything specific to one OU. Is that ok with you?

Hi Shelley,

That all sounds fine, no problem with the confusion.

I think we should just use two posters for Alt 4, with same size font as currently used, and the same font as on the other posters.

I'm okay with either welcome poster option, and with not having tables, just easels.

Thanks,

Jeryl

All,

My apologies for a file naming issue that has caused much confusion. There is no "a" or "b" listed anywhere on the posters, this was simply a way to differentiate two files that were created for the same alternative. As Jeryl mentions, there is just too much information for Alternative 4 to cover it on one poster. If anyone has suggestions to reduce the text to fit on one poster, we can go this route. Assuming we keep two posterboards, we agree that adding the word "Continued" to the second poster should clarify to the attendee that they are looking at the same alternative, just more information about it.

I also had not planned on setting up tables for the posters, just putting the posters on easels around the room. This means the two Alternative 4 posters would sit side by side. The only table besides those in the front for use during the presentation and comment period would be the Welcome Table. Please let me know if you need tables set up for each poster.

For the welcome poster, Dante selected Option 1, based on Jeryl's recommendation to select either 1 or 2 (see below). I'll need confirmation on how to proceed.

Option 1: Keep same size as other posters (30x40), but generalize text so poster can be reused at future meetings. Cost is ~$100

Option 2: Format size 16x20 for table top display at welcome table, text specific to this meeting, so cannot be reused. Cost is ~$50.

I'll be available at the welcome table to greet people and get them signed in and signed up for public comments if they want to make one. David Cacciatore can be the fourth person to stand next to and discuss/answer questions about the one of the posters.

We'll incorporate the remaining comments.

Thank You,

Shelley

Hi Shelley,

In addition to the comments that Dave Davis provided, which I mostly agree with (see my notes below within Dave's comments, plus the summary comment here).

Where we differ is how the two Alt 4 posters are titled/discussed and commented on.

I don't think we should refer to them as Alt 4a and Alt 4b, but as Alt 4 Poster 1, and Alt 4 Poster 2, or Alt 4, and Alt 4 continued, as poster titles.

The way it is presented currently it appears as if there is some distinction between closure methods that makes 4a different from 4b, and that is not true.

This is not presented in the Proposed Plan, I am not discussing it like that in the public meeting presentation, and it should not be confusing in the posters.

It's all the same alternative, it just took two posters to cover it all, so Dave's third comment is addressed in the second of the two posters.

Another way of providing additional clarity for the second Alt 4 poster, is to change the title of the poster slightly: instead of repeating the Alt 4 elements following "Alternative 4:", say "additional Alt 4 information" or something like that.

For the physical posters' set up, there should only be one Alt 4 table, for a total of 5, not 6 tables. Or, if necessary to have two tables because two posters won't fit on one table, bring the two tables together, allowing for a cohesive discussion of the preferred alternative, Alt 4. As we have done in other poster session meetings, we should have one person stationed at each table, so we need a total of 5 staff to explain and field questions.

I will take Alt 4, and Sarah, Shelley or someone else from CBI should take the Welcome Table.

That leaves 3 up for grabs; I would suggest Dante for one, and Dave Davis for one, leaving one other table open, perhaps to be covered by CBI??

The only other comments I have are related to the Welcome Poster.

1. Add to the current title, "OU-8 Proposed Plan", as this is the heart of the meeting and poster session.

2. For my contact info, change the email address so that it is all lower case, as it is case-sensitive.

Thanks,

Jeryl

Here are my comments on the posters:

Welcome Poster- Website link looks a bit light and hard to read. Suggest making it bold and add shadow to make it pop. Or moving it down just a tad to be in darker background. "WELCOME" on title should be center justified to look better. Agreed.

Alt 1 Poster- Not crazy about the blue/white striped features on map. Prefer purplish color of map in Plan. Stripes seem to make identifying the ponds more difficult. Agreed.

Alt 4a Poster- This poster is inconsistent with the other posters because it doesn't include language why it isn't the preferred alternative, like Alt 1,2,3 did. Suggest adding it to this poster for consistency. Also, this poster needs to be distinguished from Alt 4b, so please add "4a" to the title instead of just "4". Disagree; see my note above for clarity.

Alt 4b Poster- This poster needs to be distinguished from Alt 4b, so please add "4a" to the (3) titles mentioned on the poster, instead of just "4". Disagree; see my note above for clarity.

All,

Please find the draft OU8 Proposed Plan public meeting posterboards for your review and comment. All previous comments on the text have been incorporated (except making the title all one line, it was just not possible with the space available). There is some new text, the captions under the Figures.

We would like your comments back by COB Wednesday, Nov 30. We will incorporate your comments and send Finals for your files on Friday.

I'm off December 1-6, so please note that Martha Adams will be sending out the communication on this moving forward as we finalize the posters.

Thank You,

Shelley
