The failure of the EPA to protect the public from pollution.

Can we trust the EPA to do what is in the public's best interest? Not if history is any guide

"...With highly placed industry appointees in both the White House and Congress, chemical and agricultural giants essentially control the actions of the EPA.

The agency routinely shrinks from enforcing the law. It does little to bring bad practices to an end, overlooks evidence of wrongdoing and ignores the rapid increase of cancer and other diseases corresponding to the spread of toxic-chemical use and pollution..."

http://seattletimes.com/html/opinion/2023357601_egvallianatosopedepa13xml.html?cmpid=2628

seattletimes.com<http://seattletimes.com><http://l.facebook.com/l.php?u=http%3A%2F%2Fseattletimes.com%2Fhtml%2Fopinion%2F2023357601_egvallianatosopedepa13xml.html%3Fcmpid%3D2628&h=eAQFullQ-&s=1>
THE SEATTLE TIMES