Great, I also spoke to the state reps here. They have some ideas and some concerns.

Absolutely. I spoke to Christina Wadlington of Peter Grevatt's office last week. She indicated that they would be sharing a document outlining HQ thoughts on these engagement sessions soon (hopefully this week). I also let her know we would be in touch again this week after the summit to arrange for regular coordination during the planning process.

Thanks.

Yes, and we need to work with HQ to understand their expectations since they will want to replicate across the country.

That is a good starting point for us for our call on Tuesday. We look forward to hearing more details from you as they become available. And we can update you on the community's thoughts next week.

I do know that Alex envisions the Monday night session to provide an opportunity for the community groups to share their stories. So perhaps you can consider how that might best be accomplished.

Hi Alex,

We are very excited about the upcoming meeting and collaborating with you to make it a success! And again, we are very impressed that it will take place so soon after the National Summit.

Our community network is planning a group call on Tuesday to talk about the meeting so we can start to strategize our role in the meeting and how we can contribute. Any details you can share before Tuesday would be greatly appreciated so we can start our preparations. We are very happy to work with you on this meeting and make it a positive and productive meeting for all.

Very Best,

Andrea
