3-5-14 Tel L. Landis

I took this to mean a group ready to mount an appeal, if necessary.

- LL called and asked if I had any update on when permit was going to be issued
- She said they really want, if at all possible, to get at least a month's notice so they can have people ready to deal w/ it.
- I said I don't see the Final Permit being issued soon
  - I can't even offer a prediction that it'll be ready in 6-9 months (which is a timeline I can usually predict out to ...)
- I explained how we've been working on it and other permits and have been derailed at times by stuff like the Sierra Club litigation
- ~~I told her~~
- she asked if we're waiting for the Rules
  I said No, but we track them ~~at~~ and the fits and starts ~~of~~ in rulemaking have buffeted us a bit and delayed us a bit
  - We'd be much faster if none of that was going on and especially if we had National Standards that were clear and dictated permit limits
- She admitted she was very pleased for our Delay → They prefer to keep current permit as long as possible
