Mike Brown: Some thoughts on

RE: ARRCOM - RATHDRUM

Suggest you establish as much as you can about current status:

(1) accurate count of # of tanks at site -- how many are upright, tipped over, etc

(2) how many are leaking, or have leaked.

(3) how many have material in them (estimate how full, if possible)

(4) how many drums on site, leakers, how many are full, etc.

(5) Very important: try to locate or document areas where obvious (or ~~poss~~ not so obvious) spills, leaks, etc. have occurred. Suggest you sketch the site, locating tanks, etc. as best you can and then sketch spill areas. This will be invaluable for assessing adequacy of their cleanup proposal.

(6) Take photos.

(7) Anything ~~else~~ your sleuth training taught you to look for!
