Hello everyone,

Attached to this email is a draft manuscript reporting on the NJ soil PFAS project. A second email will follow with the large Supplemental Material file. I have drafted this to submit to a peer-reviewed journal after all reviews and clearances are done.

You contributed to the science reported in this manuscript and I hope you are willing to be a co-author. I have taken a shot at the author order. Please let me know if you have any concerns on your place as an author on this draft. I am sending this draft to you all for your author reviews.

I would like to try to have a teleconference next week, sometime on Wednesday or early Thursday to hear if there are any major concerns. Can you all reply to all with your availability Wednesday October 2 and Thursday October 3 between 10 AM and 2 PM? In the mean time if you have any questions or concerns beforehand, please feel entirely free to call or email me.

If we discover in our meeting next week that there are no major problems, we might be able to start the EPA clearance while us authors edit details. This would be good because EPA clearance probably will take a long time.

Erica and Sandra, in particular, would you please check and improve the sampling campaign discussion located at the front of the Supplemental Materials?

Thanks everyone!
John
