You may recall that the Superfund Division has been pursuing OPA enforcement for oil released from outfalls at the ArcelorMittal Plant in East Chicago. IDEM is now involved at the site and has suggested that it would like to issue an NPDES consent order with the facility in lieu of the OPA consent order we'd been working up. They've provided the attached draft for the OPA case team's review, and it occurred to us that we weren't sure if they also copied you, and that you should have the chance to review and comment on it as well. IDEM currently hopes to present the first draft to ArcelorMittal next week. The OPA team expects to have its comments ready by tomorrow morning. We'll share those, too, when they're ready. Thanks.

Tom:
We can add other things like property access into this document, but attached please find a draft for you review and comment.
