Thanks for speaking with us on the development of draft options to resolve the Hawaii complaints.

At this stage, we are open to any brainstorming ideas that could possibly be discussed with the recipient that address the concerns identified in the complaint and those received through our process of interviewing the concerned citizens. As this in an initial salvo, these resolution ideas should contain some specificity so that when we have a discussion with the recipients, we can provide some examples and likewise, we will request some possible remedies from them as well.

As draft your potential options, please highlight items that have been discussed and proven to be amenable with these recipients. We welcome your providing any and all possibilities at this point in our initial development of remedies.

Thanks in advance.
