Hi all –

Here is the outline with my additions in the legal section. Thanks, everyone, for putting this together.

Wayne, I agree with Yolanda that this is a fantastic start. I like the format and your key points, esp. if we are the first to put a dispute statement in writing. I mainly just added a comment in the legal section for you and Brianna to consider for additional legal content.

For today's call, since we only have an hour, I was just hoping to use this as a planning call to talk about steps to prepare for upcoming meetings with the state and then the DRC, such as preparing an outline with the objectives of the state call, TPs/Qs and As for the DRC call and when to share with HQ, and then when do we take the dispute outline to the next level. Yolanda calendared the Monday afternoon call so we would have more time to dig into an outline for each, so today's call will be more big picture to get any perspectives on the approach with Angeles.

Thanks, John

This is great, Wayne. Thank you for pulling this together, as it certainly provides more clarity. I also like the approach of laying out the four concerns not directly related to the BPRG calculator, as appropriate.

I do have some questions/comments and edits (as always). I also added a paragraph remind the Navy of its responsibility to continue with scheduled work unrelated to the dispute. This is important after the suggestion from the Navy's December letter they might stop all ongoing remediation efforts.
