You invited EPA to present the results of recent sampling that EPA has done in northeast Juneau County. EPA does not plan on attending. All the individual well owners have already received the analytical results of samples collected from their wells and they have been provided informational resources to answer questions related to their results. The sampling results from the public road right-of-ways are still being compiled and analyzed. We will also need to complete that analysis and coordinate with Wisconsin DNR before releasing the data. It is our desire to release the data to the public as soon as possible. Thank you for the opportunity to participate in the educational session.

Linda – It looks like we will be ready to share the full groundwater data (41 borings on public right-of-way) with the public soon. To do so, we are creating a website. As discussed earlier, WDNR wanted the data prior to release. To do that, we could give Wisconsin access to the website a week before it goes live. Does that sound ok? It looks like we will be ready to share it next week sometime.

We will not include the private well data on the website. Those people have been notified directly.
