Hello, Julie. I will be sending you each of the documents in separate emails because I've had problems with the files going through successfully. The definition of "site" and the scope of the work are still in flux. In our last call with the parties we discussed adding language to reflect that interim actions may be required. The discussions are ongoing on that point. Feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Good morning Elizabeth-

Would you mind forwarding these attachments to my managing attorney, Julie Kane (copied here)? I am out of the office this week and am having trouble forwarding these attachments (one seems to be quite large) remotely. Thanks!
