Hi Amanda,

Thanks for the update. Please note that Marianne Bailey, our Deputy Office Director for OITA's Office of Global Affairs, is now expected to be going to Geneva and staffing Jane for the High Level segment of the Conference (Day 3).

I will check with here about finding a time tomorrow of Wed. We are also waiting to hear back from HHS on a couple key issues.

Regards,

Hi Ted,

I've not received any information about this event. I'm scheduled to speak briefly at a pre-conference workshop on the CCAC's reduced-form benefits calculator tool that EPA contributed to. It's at the same time, but also at WMO, so I could potentially participate in part of this session if that would be helpful.

I'm just back from Bangkok and catching up today, but my schedule is pretty open on Tuesday and Wednesday if you'd like to talk. Just let me know what would work for you.

Amanda

Hi Amanda,

I just received the invite below from WHO to attend the subject meeting on Oct. 29. I wanted to quickly check to see if you have also received an invite to this event. In briefly looking at the agenda we were curious as to how UNECE relevant work fits into this dialog. From our perspective we believe the fora may be useful in advancing the air pollution and NCDs agenda we have been working on, including in the connection with the recently concluded 3rd High Level Meeting on Prevention and Control of Noncommunicable Diseases at the UN General Assembly.

Are you around next week, so that we could connect on some of this. I am actually not working today, but was just periodically checking my email. I will be back in the Office Monday thur Thursday next week.

Have a nice weekend.

Ted

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of WHO, UN Environment and WMO, I am pleased to invite you to participate in the Coordination Meeting on the Health, Environment and Climate Change Coalition (HECCC).

The Coalition was mandated by the Ministerial Declaration on Health, Environment and Climate Change in the margins of the UNFCCC COP22 climate conference, and was launched at the annual World Health Assembly in May 2018.

This working meeting will be hosted by WHO, UN Environment and WMO at WMO headquarters, Geneva, Switzerland and will take place on Monday, 29 October 2018, from 1.30pm until 5 pm.

The meeting will be held back to back with the First Global Conference on Air Pollution and Health in WHO Headquarters on 30 October - 1 November 2018.

Representatives from Member States, UN agencies and key actors active on health, environment and climate change will be also invited.

The meeting aims to share regional agendas and priorities as well as ongoing activities of UN agencies and key actors on health, environment and climate change, identify potential areas of collaboration and discuss how to make full use of the coalition to better coordinate activities on health, environment and climate change, identify synergies and possible joint products in order to better support Member States.

For further information, please find attached the concept note of the meeting.

In order to register for the meeting, kindly click on the below link and provide your details by 23 October 2018.
