I don't know if sampling plans were shared with other EPA staff – but since my involvement on the listing front, I've only been aware of the passive sediment sampling plan – which is being implemented now. They didn't actively seek our review, and we informed them that our involvement was peripheral. Not sure that helps

I can include a statement about the urgency of the Corps properly addressing these matters.

Does anyone know whether the Corps provided us with any sampling plans for our review and approval?

Richard, I like it; I just have one suggestion. So I assume you think it might be too on the nose to add 'the sooner the better' type sentiment here so they don't keep throwing money away particularly in the upland OU with the wrong goalposts in mind? Maybe suggest a meeting to clear this up as soon as possible?

On the NCP reference, this is sure a site that needs listing and an FFA to make that abundantly clear (and with teeth hopefully) but I think it's a timely reminder nonetheless listing or no listing. I'll reference that in communicating USFWS/YN/DEQ/EPA comments on the in water passive sampling work so they're less likely to be ignored.

Thank you.

I have revised the message to the Corps to provide a better explanation of need to consider Oregon laws and the NCP. See what you think.
