Gary,

Thank you for organizing the tour of the superfund sites yesterday. It was very helpful to view the sites and to hear firsthand the background and status of each site. Garry McMahan pointed out to me that my brain was cross-wired yesterday when I was thinking HDR but saying URS! Anyhow, HDR is a large firm that I think EPA has retained as a consultant to assist with some other superfund sites. The company does include an engineering component; its website has a lot of information that you may find helpful. Thanks again, Gary.
