Clearly was not thinking straight! ☹ Got it.

Thanks.

Yes, the highlighted part is correct.

It's the final PRA that's missing. I reviewed the draft and prepared comments.

Thanks,

Jan

Subject: RCRA Cluster 17

Jan,

Is the statement highlighted in yellow correct?

To maintain a program that is equivalent to the federal hazardous waste management program, states are required to revise their programs to adopt newly promulgated EPA final rules. The State is authorized for federal rules from July 2003 through June 2004, known as RCRA Cluster XIV. The Alabama Department of Environmental Management (ADEM) has revised its program and submitted draft program revision applications (PRAs) seeking authorization for EPA final rules promulgated from July 2004 through June 2012, known as RCRA Clusters XV through XXII and final rules promulgated from July 2013 through June 2014, known as RCRA Cluster XXIII. The EPA has reviewed program revision applications for RCRA Clusters XVII through XIX and worked with ADEM to resolve questions or comments concerning these clusters. After it undergoes rulemaking to make corrections for several checklists in these clusters, ADEM will submit final program revision applications. Additionally, the EPA completed its review for draft RCRA PRAs Clusters XX through XXIII. Draft comments for these RCRA Clusters were submitted to ADEM on December 21, 2915. ADEM has thirty (30) days to review the comments.

I thought that RCRA Cluster XVII is missing. Please clarify.

Thank you.
