Yes, it was on Alex's radar as well. I will be reaching out to RD today so see about the next steps as I think they want us to sign the DWA and eco memo today.

I have no comments on the Q and A document. During the break, I did come across this rather interesting press release from CBD that might interest you all:

Version control across the divisions might get tricky, but attached are some comments from the Communications branch. These comments are not really for us but rather RD.

Hi Aldicarb Team.

Attached is the Q&A document with my edits and some questions I have. These are the questions that come to my mind when I play devil's advocate. All might not be needed. In fact 6 and 7 are pretty much the same thing. You all are the experts. Do what you think best.

Good Afternoon Team,

Debra and I have drafted some Q&As for Aldicarb and have attached them for team review. We are requesting review by your team, including but not limited to edits and adding additional questions and answers, that can be released when the new use is announced.

Please send Debra and I your feedback by COB Monday January 4, 2021.

Best Regards,
