TSCA Workgroup Members – attached are the meeting minutes from our TSCA Workgroup discussion on June 5, 2019 along with the following supporting documents:

- iPCB Workshop Agenda
- iPCB Workshop Concept Document
- Microeconomic Impacts of the Proposed PCB Ban
- Economic Analysis to Exclude Closed and Controlled Processes from the PCB Ban

One of our tasks from this meeting was to develop a short list of key words for a research opportunity to explore EPA's Library of Scholarly articles regarding actions going on across the country on the iPCB concern. Not knowing the details of how this search process works, we will need Michelle Mullin's assistance and guidance to refining this search for the intended purpose, but I will get the conversation started by offering the following key words:

Polychlorinated biphenyls, PCB, PCBs, byproducts, inadvertent, unintentional, incidental, recycled paper, inks, pigments, phthalocyanine, diarylide

Please respond with other key words that you believe would be of value in this effort.

Please review the minutes and let me know if you have any additions or suggested revisions. These minutes and action items will form the agenda for our next meeting on July 3rd. I also want to thank you all for your efforts in this workgroup. I am very impressed with the caliber of members participating in this effort and the diverse participation and interest in this work.

Doug
