Subject: Re: Invalid RIN replacement instructions

Sandra,

Thank you for your email, the supplementary instructions sent on July 31st does not mandate the RIN year to be used.

Any resulting deficit carryover would carry through to each subsequent compliance year.

Thanks,

-Ben

Hi Team,
Should I assume, since no one has gotten back to me, that EPA is ok with Calumet using 2014 RINs as replacements for the invalid RINs used for compliance?
Thanks,
Sande

Hello EMTS,

Per Ben Larson's note of July 31, obligated parties who plan to use 2014 RINs as replacements for invalid New Energy Fuels or Chieftain RINs are to notify EMTS of this fact.
Please consider this a notification on behalf of Calumet Superior LLC (4741) that they will use 2014 RINs as replacements.

Please let me know asap if you need further information or if this will not be acceptable to EPA.

Thank you,
Sandra
