Sorry for the delay on this one. Just hit my inbox.

Senator Rick Scott said, "This designation is great news for the State of Florida – it gives our state the ability to make the best decisions for our unique environment, with input from the public and environmental stakeholders. The duplicative rules on the state and federal levels were a waste of taxpayer dollars, and created confusion for everyone involved, which is why I fought to streamline this process. I will keep working to cut unnecessary government red tape and improve efficiency on every level of government, while also making sure our environment is protected for generations to come."

"Florida continues to be a pioneer of environmental protection. This is a historic moment for our agency and our state," said DEP Secretary Noah Valenstein. "We appreciate EPA's stringent, public review and approval of DEP's assumption of this program. Our waters and wetlands are critical to our economy and way of life in Florida. As such, it is important for the state to be in charge and take the lead in their protection. We are pleased that with the assumption, Florida scientists and permitters will now be accountable for state and federal wetlands permits. DEP staff know the state's resources best and have the expertise to ensure their protection." - FL DEP Secretary Noah Valenstein

Without these unnecessary and duplicative permitting processes, projects of all sizes will be streamlined to maximize efficiency and our state will be given the flexibility to make our own decisions that are best suited for our environmental and economic interests."

U.S Congressman John Rutherford (FL-04): "As Floridians, we understand the important role the environment plays in our economy and our way of life," said Rutherford. "Today's announcement by Secretary Bernhardt and Administrator Wheeler is a big win for Florida, allowing our state to streamline permitting for water projects while continuing to uphold the highest level of environmental standards. This is just another example of President Trump and Governor DeSantis's dedication to protecting Florida waters while reducing bureaucracy and making government run more efficiently."

"Today's announcement is a tremendous accomplishment for Florida, especially as we continue our Everglades restoration efforts," said Congressman Mario Diaz-Balart (FL-25). Allowing the state to take over the 404 permitting process will significantly streamline restoration projects, while still protecting the greater environment. Thanks. I'll work on getting these six credentials created this morning. If there's the slightest possibility they may need to go virtual then someone on each person's staff should try to join the dry run. The whole point of this dry run is to troubleshoot any connectivity issues ahead of the event.

Who from this group needs to be added into the dry run for tomorrow? I've set it up for an hour in case we need to spend time on the phone with folks to walk them through the login process. Thanks.

For Sec. Noah Valenstein:

Virtual Event prep
The Secretary is planning on being on a flight at that time tomorrow, however, his email address for the virtual event if it happens would be: noah.valenstein@dep.state.fl.us

For the dry run it would be great if you could invite Wes Brooks (wes.brooks@floridadep.gov) and their Comms Director, Dee Ann Miller (Dee.Ann.Miller@dep.state.fl.us) to make sure everything is set up.

We don't have any of the e-mail addresses from staff yet. Will keep the pressure on them though. Given the vote House/Senate Floor activity likely to happen at the end of the week, I think we'll be dealing with very last minute decisions and changes from the Hill.
