Importance: High

Hi Viktoriya –

We received the heads-up below from Maureen about the upcoming IRIS Pre-brief.

Attached are some materials regarding the topics she mentioned:

1) There are two attachments ton the MYA. They have been revised to reflect the current decision on vanadium pentoxide and the fact that we have received the TMB report. They are the same attachments sent to Tom for his briefing with Gina. They will serve as the backdrop for discussions about how the Agency's needs were sought and what kind of call we did to the Programs. I can also clarify the basic differences between the MYA and the GOA needs assessment. I do not plan on going into detail on the needs assessment, as our efforts, and Bob's questions, seemed to be asking about how we reached out to the Programs and identified their needs. If that is not correct, and you want more detail on something else – please let me know ASAP.

2) A revised 6-month outlook is attached. We will be prepared to discuss this and answer questions regarding slippage.

I also wanted to note that Vince is on vacation. I am acting for him, and Sam and I are prepared to cover this meeting. However, it just occurred to me that Bob may not know that – and he may be expecting Vince. Could you let him know Vince is out? I presume Bob will still want to meet – but – we should probably give him a heads-up.

Thank you!

Subject: Topics for the prebrief for the IRIS monthly

Hi Gina,

Bob would like to talk to you all about the following two topics:

- Programs' needs for risk assessment – in part this may be how you ended up at the MYA, but also may be the needs assessment from the GAO
- 6 mos look ahead calendar – and discussion of the date slippage over the past year

For the first topic – Bob asked about if there was a blanket call to the Programs as to what assessments they were interested in, which to me sounded like the needs assessment – but from talking to Samantha that may have morphed into the MYA call. So perhaps some clarity on that if they are two separate things etc.

I'll be out of the office until Thursday. So please send your materials to Vik Plotkin (cc'd above) by 3pm Wednesday.

Thanks –

Maureen
