Fast Cajun

To whom it may concern, the following is a recap of the incident involving the Fast Cajun and the corrective actions taken to resolve it.

On the date of 2/21/13 Mechanics were onboard the Fast Cajun doing some maintenance to the Port Main Engine. At approximately 1335 the engine was cranked to test it. The Captain on watch immediately noticed a light sheen starting to appear from the PME exhaust. The engine was immediately shut down and tagged out not to be used again until the issue was resolved.

Sheen was estimated to be 5'X20' in dimension and rainbow in color. By the time calls were made to have someone bring boom down to block it off, the sheen had dispersed. Myself (Brandon Schexsnayder), and my manager (Roddy Pitre), followed our company flow chart for spills and reporting. All appropriate personnel were notified in the timeliest manner possible.

To resolve the issue we had La Cat Mechanics down to the vessel to inspect the engine and determine the cause. Cat determined that the problem was in one or more of the injectors. All 16 injectors were replaced. The engine was tested with the lines that drain into the exhaust pulled into the vessel and placed into a container incase the leak persisted to prevent another loss into the water. PME tested good, present leaks were no longer an issue. Vessel is back to operating at normal status.

Please let us know if there is any additional information required or any further steps we need to take. We want to do our best to make sure everything is taken care of in the correct manner. We also appreciate your time and effort in this matter.
