PESTICIDE ACTION NETWORK • NORTH AMERICA

United States Environmental Protection Agency
Administrator Gina McCarthy and
Designated FIFRA SAP Federal Official Jim Downing 1200 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Washington, DC 20460

December 15, 2016

Dear Administrator McCarthy and Mr. Downing,

We are aware that Monsanto is exerting pressure on the Scientific Advisory Panel's review process regarding the carcinogenic potential of glyphosate to discredit participating scientists and exonerate their highly profitable pesticide product. We urge you to follow independent, peer-reviewed science instead of those that the corporation had a vested interest in.

As you know, scientists around the world are raising red flags about the connections between cancer and glyphosate. Last year, the UN's International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) determined that glyphosate is "probably carcinogenic to humans." This finding was based on independent studies and assessment of real-world exposure rates.

Glyphosate is the most commonly used herbicide in the United States, with over 500 million pounds applied to farmland in the past 20 years. We urge you to take a close look at any links to cancer for the sake of public health and well-being.

Sincerely,

Judy Hatcher

Judy Hatcher, Executive Director
Pesticide Action Network North America
