Thanks, Jason. I incorporated a sentence on that as well.

Brent: This is ready to go. Pls send to those we briefed a few weeks ago. Thanks

Dear Colleagues:

Yesterday afternoon, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) staff canvassed the residential neighborhood surrounding and adjacent to the June 14, 2016 fire at the Panda International Trading facility in Maywood, Calif to discuss next steps for cleanup at the facility. Door-to-door outreach will continue today, October 13, and will continue tomorrow, if necessary. EPA's On-Scene Coordinator, who is responsible for overseeing the cleanup, and staff from EPA's Community Involvement office were present to speak with residents. Cleanup will begin on October 17, 2016, and continue for approximately eight weeks.

The attached fact sheets were also distributed to residents. Staff present during canvassing were fluent in both English and Spanish. The fact sheets also include U.S. EPA contacts for any calls/inquiries your offices may receive from constituents.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need any additional information.

Regards,

Brent Maier

Awesome.

Jason: If I don't hear from you by today, I'm assuming this is okay with you as well and will instruct Brent to distribute to our list early tomorrow morning.

Brent: I'll reach out to you in the a.m. with the go-ahead.

Thanks, everyone!

David - If the outreach to community residents took place yesterday, then I can send out today. Or I can send out tomorrow I talked with Nahal earlier and it was her understanding the community outreach was beginning today. Just let me know. I have added to your transmittal note the highlighted section below as follows:

Dear Colleagues:

Beginning yesterday afternoon, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) staff canvassed the residential neighborhood surrounding and adjacent to the June 14, 2016 fire at Panda International Trading facility in Maywood, Calif. EPA's cleanup project manager and staff from EPA's community involvement office were present to speak with residents about the next steps for cleanup, which will begin on October 17, 2016, continuing for approximately eight weeks, and answer any questions.

The attached fact sheets were also distributed to residents. Staff present during canvassing were fluent in both English and Spanish. The fact sheets also include U.S. EPA contacts for any calls/inquiries your offices may receive from constituents.
