Bill,

This is to confirm that Monday January 27 at 2 pm will work. I will reserve a room here at 290 Broadway. Alternately we are willing to meet in your office in Newark if that is convenient for you and your client.

Regards,

-Sarah

Bill,

My apologies, but it seems that some people on my end have a preference for any day other than January 23. Would you have time on another day? If not, we will rearrange things.

Thanks

Sarah

Bill,

Unfortunately those dates do not work for EPA. What about January 17 in the morning?

If that is not good, would you be available any day during the week of January 20 (other than the morning of January 23)?

Thanks,

-Sarah

Sarah:

Sorry that I was unable to get you possible meeting dates yesterday, as I was tied up on other matters.

Assuming that EPA provides the background documents requested on the QAPP before the holiday break, Givaudan is available on the following dates for a meeting with EPA in January 2014:

January 7 (afternoon)

January 15 (afternoon)

January 16 (afternoon)

Please let us know which date works best to you and your team.

Have a good weekend.

Regards,

Bill

Sarah:

Thank you for responding to Givaudan's request. It is important to my client to review those materials before our meeting so we should reschedule it for January. I will send you potential dates for a meeting in January later today.

Bill

Bill,

I am still working on getting the QAPP background documents to you, as well as the revised QAPP. I think it will take a few more days. If it is important to your client that you have time to review the documents before we meet, I suggest that we look for meeting dates in early January.

Regards,

-Sarah
