General Comment

I am commenting on docket ID number EPA-HQ-OPP-2016-0385, your proposed review of whether to continue to allow the poisoning of America with glyphosate, a Monsanto (french for "my satan") product. How much do I avoid glyphosate and other satanic products? Let me count the ways: 1) I eat only organic; 2) I refuse all vaccines and flu shots (already shown to contain glyphosate residues); 3) I support/vote for all true GMO-labeling efforts; 4) I share info about this and other environmental poisons w/ anyone who will read or listen; 4) I only vote for candidates who publicly support my right to know what's in my food; and I even take time to comment on impending rules changes by unelected bureaucrats like you!!!!

After that opening, need I say that I'm absolutely opposed to the continued availability of any glyphosate-containing product throughout the U.S., and any other part of world as well. The science showing how dangerous glyphosate is to all living organisms is well-established among researchers not working for MonSatan or other funders of the eugenics-depopulation agenda. Since you have no doubt been supplied with many studies proving this danger, I will not add to your reading (assuming these studies exposing the danger are actually read). I am well aware of the revolving door between Big Ag, Big Chemicals, and Big Pharma and our regulatory agencies, including the EPA, FDA, and CDC so excuse my lack of trust in this process that you are engaging in. If you once again approve glyphosate, I will be disappointed but not surprised. If you decide to no longer license this substance, then I'll be forced to hope once again that light and truth are returning to America.

After all, who thought so much truth would come out about Crooked/Sick Hillary, the Bush-Clinton-Saudi-9/11 connection, CDC's vaccine fraud, killer GMO's, false flag events (too numerous to list), and yes, even MonSatan, now one of the most hated corporations in the world. They may pay well, but karma can't be bought. And it lasts lifetimes longer than MonSatan's creations. The choice is up to you!
