Subject: OSHA media update

Hi all,

I'll be on assignment in Bend tomorrow but wanted to give you an update on media matters with respect to OR OSHA.

This week, Tony Schick of OPB requested OSHA inspection records involving Bullseye and Uroboros. We've fulfilled his request, giving him the same documents we gave to The Oregonian and KGW.

So far, The Oregonian has used the records in a very limited manner (at the end of this Q&A story: http://bit.ly/21HwRMd). The paper requested no interview. I haven't heard anything from KGW. And nothing from Tony yet.

I hope this helps. Take care, Aaron.
