Dear Gary Miller:

Thank you for sending the responses. There were, however, only three responses and there were close to 23 letters sent to you and Anne Foster. Were they not received? I sure hope you have them because so much of the lessons I wanted them to get out of writing the letters had to do with writing to an actual person and receiving a response so they could learn that their voice can make a difference in the world.

Thanks for helping me out with this goal.

Eva Skrande
