I will see if I can reserve a room for that time and date. As it is so far in advance, that should not be a problem.

I should be in on both days. Early afternoon on March 28 looks OK thusfar.

The next time I am already scheduled to be in DC is March 27 and 28. The best time for me would be early in the afternoon of March 28. Late morning on March 27 is possible but not my first choice. Thanks

That week would not work for me or another likely attendee as we will be on travel through March 9.

Bill, Happy New Year, hope all is going well. Last year I came in and discuss the possible registration of a new registration for BASF of a vitamin rodenticide. We have been proceeding and are finalizing our strategy for registering this product. I would like to meet with the group again early on the morning of March 8, 2012 to discuss our plan and be sure we have covered everything so when it is submitted there won't be any issues. I have other meetings being scheduled for late morning and afternoon of March 8 at EPA. If March 8 does not work for your group the afternoon of March 7 or early on March 9 are also open. Thanks in advance.
