Hi Lori,

Thanks for doing this. Sorry for the delay in commenting. Feel free to give my cell a call if you want to talk. I'll check email as often as I can make it work and will check voicemail tonight. I've attached both a sharepoint version and a word version with track changes so you can use whichever is easier for you. Thx!

Hi, Jill. Forgot you were out this week. Attached is an edited version you should made your changes too. I think I will send this on to OGC today. If you have time to fill in some holes this week that would be great.

Thanks, Cara. I will see if Jill can fill in some of the factual holes and I will edit a bit more for readability, but will get this to OGC by COB today.

Hi Lori—Thanks for pulling this off so quickly. Good job teasing out the legal analysis and risks. I recommend sending to Tom Glazer at this point to get OGC's input on how they want to present it. This is so dense and complex, and I am not sure if they will want all of that in a background paper or like this. Since we do not have time to really perfect this, and we don't know if it is what they want, I recommend sending now to get their input.

Anyway, there are holes/questions highlighted in bold. Some are factual that I hope Jill can fill in, but others are likely for OGC to answer. Please give me your comments as soon as you can; however, its my understanding from yesterday's defensive docket discussion that this paper is not necessary to get the RA's confirmation on his decisions on how to move forward with the Oregon list. Thanks.
