I recommend a little more text than 'see attached'. Perhaps indicate we didn't have an attachment in the email, however, we are sending the consent order that has been sanitized for confidential business information. This consent order is available to the public on our Chemview website (....).

Incoming: My name is Dan Ross, I'm a reporter with Capital & Main, working on a story about PFAS contamination in California. I recently obtained the attached premanufacture notice (PMN) for a particular PFAS called Gen X. I just wanted to confirm the authenticity of the document.

Response: See attached.

Can you confirm with Alex/Nancy that it's ok to send the document? Thanks.

Since the file from the reporter was stripped from the email I can't verify it. However, the sanitized consent order is publicly available through our chemview database and is attached here.

My name is Dan Ross, I'm a reporter with Capital & Main, working on a story about PFAS contamination in California.

I recently obtained the attached premanufacture notice (PMN) for a particular PFAS called Gen X. I just wanted to confirm the authenticity of the document.

My deadline is COB this Friday, March 29.
