Good Morning,

I just wanted to send you a quick note to let you know I have returned and am in the office today. I was able to get my computer and email set up this morning, so I will begin by reviewing the documents you attached to the email below. I would be happy to come to your office to meet you and check in with you at your convenience today.

Thanks so much!

Hello and Welcome Jacob and Stephanie,

Both Kathryn Caballero and I are working from home today and regret not being there to meet you in person on your arrival.

Attached are files that comprise our AED law clerk orientation materials. Please spend some time looking through the materials and getting familiar with AED's operations, the regulatory framework of the CAA, and the tools of our civil enforcement mission. Hard copies of these are in two binders located in 1111B, if that makes it easier for your review. One of the items is the Law Clerk questionnaire. Please take some time to answer the questions so that we can discuss them in the days ahead.

Tomorrow is the OECA picnic down at Fort McNair. OECA = Office of Enforcement and Compliance Assurance - long story short is that OECA is the big office under which AED is organized. Please dress for a day of being outdoors and having fun - i.e., totally casual.

I plan on being in in the a.m. and look forward to meeting you then.

Best regards,

Bob
