Good Morning,

My name is Dr. Veronica Hunnicutt, and I am the Chair of the CAC for the Shipyard.

I am writing to you with a heavy heart because nothing has been said to the community about the tainted land situation brought on by Tetra Tech malfeasance, thus causing a delay in the Shipyard Cleanup, OCII reclaiming the property, and turnover of the land to FivePoint, the Master Developer. There has been no resolution or response from your agencies about any aspect of the project, and so the community waits.

A cloud of uncertainty lingers for the community. Without an understanding of what is clean and what is safe, people are left to their own imaginations and oftentimes false assumptions. The level of frustration in the community is palpable. Neither of your agencies has issued any statements to allay the fears of the concerned public. There has been no announcement about the Shipyard situation other than the Navy information about having a work plan shortly, which is very important. However, this is not enough information to answer the critical questions about the safety of the Shipyard for individuals already residing on Parcel A or the general public. Meanwhile, the project suffers and so do the hopes and dreams of the Bayview community.

Once the public disclosure of the report is complete and the community's meaningful ideas are factored into your analysis, please work with urgency on executing the work in the plan. Further delay will cause additional problems for this project and for the community.

This handling of the Shipyard cleanup and associated matters has not been done well to date. If this matter continues to be handled poorly, the results will be that the community will still be concerned, slowdown of work, which is already a reality, will speed up, and people will lose their job opportunities. The fate of many individuals rests in your hands. I hate to be blunt, but this situation is dire.

As always, the CAC for the Shipyard members want to help the Bayview community and residents in the City and County of San Francisco to realize the benefits of this enormous, important development.

We are fortunate that Congresswoman Nancy Pelosi has secured the funds to clean up the Shipyard, and we are grateful to her for being committed to the Shipyard project.

We ask you to help move this project forward with urgency and to keep hope alive. You hold the keys to this project. We need you to continue to work hard for the Southeast and for San Francisco and to better communicate your efforts, so we are not subject to the continuous rumors and press articles that appear to be new information but are really a rehash of old news.

Thank you for allowing me to share my concerns with you. We, the CAC for the Shipyard, are here to serve the community; we are delighted and blessed to work with our partners, OCII and FivePoint.

Thank you for your diligent work. Your responsibilities are enormous, and you are fully capable of surmounting this challenge and any other issues that lie ahead.

Sincerely,

Dr. Veronica Hunnicutt
