RE: Public Notice No.: 13-04-01-B

Application No.: WI-0036579-4 - Bad River Utilities

Bad River Bank of the Lake Superior Tribe

Dear Mr. Colletti:

It is disgraceful that the EPA continues to apply a different set of rules to the Bad River Tribe when it comes to polluting the Bad River. In the past 10 years the tribe has been cited over 280 times for pollution violations. Yet the EPA continues to have trepidations about making the Bad River comply with the law.

We in the Northwoods are currently fighting to get a mine started in the Penokee Hills. At each hearing, listening session, educational conference, etc., we hear the Bad River Tribe's never ending plea for clean water and a stop to the mine in order to stop the potential pollution of their rice beds. Furthermore, the Obama administration has granted the tribe's request for oversight of air and water quality in the Bad River water shed.

What is going on here? The EPA is reluctant to enforce existing water quality standards and to force the Bad River Tribe to cease and desist the horrendous real pollution the Bad River Tribe causes.

Mr. Colletti, please start enforcing the law equally among all Americans. When you don't enforce existing law, you invite everyone to disregard the law. Do you want to be responsible for a nation of scofflaws?

Please do not issue any further sanitation permits to the Bad River Wastewater Treatment Plant unless they have corrected problems with their wastewater treatment plant.

John Sendra
