Carolyn

Thank you for your email of 10 November 2015 with the attachment presenting EPA's assessment of whether the transition criteria have been met. As you know, the Air Force reviewed these assessments and presented additional data concerning the status of the transition criteria during the 23 November and 17 December 2015 BCT calls. The attached document presents some of the same information in a comment response format.

See my attached notes with respect to where I think we are with steam injection, based upon the criteria set forth in the RD/RAWP. Based upon the criteria we established at the beginning, I believe we are at about 75% of meeting performance objectives.
